GERMANS FIGHT DESPERATELY ON WEST FRONT AS LINES CRUMBLE

PARKER WILL BE IN WACO MONDAY

COMES AT THAT TIME FOR FIRST INSPECTION OF CAMP MAC ARTHUR.

ASKS NO RECEPTION NOW

COMMUNICATES WITH LOCAL COMMITTEE ASKING IT BE POSTPONED.

Maj. Gen. James Parker, commanding officer of Camp MacArthur, who has been acting commander of the Southern department with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, will arrive in Waco Monday morning at 4 o'clock.

After a hurried day's inspection of local conditions and the army training camp here, General Parker will leave in the evening at 11 o'clock for his return to San Antonio.

He will return here with his staff and aides next Saturday to take up his permanent work at Camp MacArthur.

The commander of the local camp will come in his private car, and with him will be Mrs. Parker and his aides. He will be given a royal reception by Wacoans.

Committee to Meet Him.

A committee from the military committee of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, H. H. Shear chairman, will meet the general at the station. Mr. Shear was chosen Saturday to head the local reception committee.

The committee will meet General Parker at the M. K. & T. depot at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. They will have with them sufficient automobiles to take care of the entire party to accompany the Camp MacArthur commander.

Capt. C. F. Andrews, commanding officer of Camp MacArthur, who was sent here with his detachment of the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry, to maintain a guard of the camp until the arrival of the commanding officer, has received instructions from headquarters at Fort Sam Houston to meet the train.

To Form Military Escort.

Captain Andrews with other officers of the Twenty-fourth and a military escort will be at the Katy depot at 8 a. m. Monday to receive the general, who will remain in his private car from time of arrival until that hour.

From the depot the military escort and the local members of the committee named for the occasion will make a quick but thorough trip through the army reservation located in Waco.

The plans for the day will depend entirely upon the wishes of General Parker.

A suite of rooms has been arranged for at the Raleigh hotel for General Parker and a luncheon has been arranged, so that in case the party can return from the inspection trip by noon, an informal reception may be held in honor of the commanding officer of the local camp.

Parker Sends Letter.

A letter from General Parker to the military committee of Waco thanks the members of the committee and the citizens of Waco for their congratulations offered upon hearing of his promotion to a major generalship. The letter, received last night, asks that no arrangements of any sort be made for a public reception until after the inspection trip has been made and the general has arranged to return to this city for his permanent duty.

Captain Andrews will have a formal military review of troops at Camp MacArthur if the general wishes, but in case he does not, "there will be no review," as it was expressed by the captain.

Everything possible will be done for the comfort and reception of the general and his staff and his wishes will be given prompt attention, but nothing of a formal nature will be arranged until such time as it is desired by the army men.

EXPLOSION IN CANADA NOT AS SERIOUS AS REPORTED

By the Associated Press.
Montreal, Aug. 18.—A report from Riga, Quebec late today, estimated the dead at the Curtis & Harvey powder explosion at from 17 to 25 persons. Search of the ruins for bodies had not been possible, as the shattered remains of the buildings still were blazing.

SCENT PLOT IN BURNING OF BRITISH FREIGHT STEAMSHIP

By the Associated Press.
San Francisco, Aug. 18.—Fire that destroyed the British freight steamer Waitara off the coast of Australia last June probably was the result of a plot, according to J. McLean, chief engineer of the vessel, who arrived here today. The suspicious circumstances brought to light later convinced him that the fire originated from a bomb, said McLean.

WOMEN POLICE FOR WACO SOON

FEMALE "PLAIN CLOTHES OFFICERS" ARE TO BE STATIONED THROUGHOUT TOWN.

Waco will soon see its first women police.

These police women will be in plain clothes. That is they will not wear uniforms of any nature.

They will have the same police power that officers in uniform will have. Mrs. J. N. Boynton, president of the Y. W. C. A., has asked that such police be provided for by the city.

The Waco war board, William B. Kelsey and others identified with the government work, also have urged this.

Assurance has been given that the female officers will be appointed. A meeting will be held at noon Tuesday with the city commissioners, at which time the matter will be definitely settled.

Mayor Dollins has approved of the plan and it is stated authoritatively that the commissioners, as a council, are in favor of police women as an addition to the Waco department. The special committee will meet with the commissioners and mayor and then the new work will be started.

The women police will work in hotels, moving picture houses, parks and elsewhere and their work will be to protect the women of the city and to see that no women, who should not be here, are allowed in the city.

Troops Coming By Monday Is Army Report

Troops of Michigan and Wisconsin have left their home destinations for Waco, according to dispatches received here last night by army officers.

The troops left Friday and will be here tonight or early Monday morning. These constitute the advance guard.

Camp sites for the first troops are in readiness and Major Hansen, constructing quartermaster at Camp MacArthur, states that he is in readiness to handle as many troops as are eventually to come to this training camp.

Work on the camp structures has continued at top speed all during the last week and there has been sufficient lumber and other material constantly arriving as to prevent a cessation of work at any time.

A crew of about 2,000 men has been employed for ten hours a day and work anywhere.

HOOVER PLEADS FOR ECONOMIES

FOOD ADMINISTRATOR SAYS NATION MUST REALIZE WHEAT SHORTAGE.

EXPORTS DEMAND INCREASE

ADVOCATES UTILIZATION OF ONE POUND OF CEREAL PER WEEK.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Declaring the United States and its allies face a wheat shortage of 400,000,000 bushels unless true economies are introduced, Herbert C. Hoover tonight again appealed to the American public to eliminate waste and to conserve wheat by substituting other cereals.

"The allies," said Mr. Hoover, "are isolated from those markets other than Canada and the United States on which they were accustomed to rely before the war. The Russian supply cannot be gotten out. Bulgarian and Rumanian supplies are in the hands of the central empire. The voyage from Australia is three times as long and therefore requires three times as many tons of shipping as is required from North Atlantic ports.

Failure in South America.
"There also has been a large failure in South American countries.

"The deficit of 400,000,000 bushels can be at least partially overcome if we can increase our exports from $5,000,000 to $20,000,000. This can be accomplished if we substitute one pound of other cereals for one pound of wheat flour weekly per person; that is, if we reduce our consumption of wheat flour from five pounds per week to four pounds per week per person.

"It will be no privation to us and will greatly reduce the privation of our allies."

The Allied Demands.
France, Italy, the United Kingdom and Belgium, Mr. Hoover estimated, must import during the next twelve months 577,000,000 bushels of wheat and 647,000,000 bushels of other cereals to meet normal consumption requirements.

Against this is balanced an estimated wheat surplus of 88,000,000 bushels in the United States and 120,000,000 bushels in Canada and a surplus of other cereals totalling 529,000,000 bushels in the United States and 119,000,000 bushels in Canada. These figures alone represent a wheat deficit of 369,000,000 bushels, but in addition it is pointed out the United States must reserve a part of her supply for neutrals furnishing this country vital supplies.

U. S. HANDBOOK TELLS ALL HOW TO AID NATION

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 18.—A national service handbook designed to point the way to opportunities for serving the nation during the war was published today by the committee on public information. Persons of every occupation and trade are shown where they can best apply their abilities and energies for the public welfare.

SAN DIEGO WATER MAIN BLOWN UP BY ENEMIES?

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 18.—More than twenty feet of the forty inch water main, connecting the San Diego city water impounding system was blown out by an explosion late last night, according to an announcement shortly before noon today by Manager Lockwood. That a deliberate effort was made to cripple San Diego's supply system was the pronounced belief of Manager Lockwood who said that shortly after the explosion two men were seen running from the scene.

E. ST. LOUIS RIOTER CONFESSES TO PART PLAYED IN FIGHTING

Bellville, Ind., Aug. 18.—F. L. Schulz of East St. Louis, Ill., indicted on charges of rioting, conspiracy and assault with intent to commit murder by the grand jury that investigated the recent East St. Louis race riots, pleaded guilty in the circuit court here today to conspiracy and to one count charging assault with intent to commit murder.

He was sentenced to an indefinite term of one to fourteen years in the Chester penitentiary on the latter charge and to five years' imprisonment on a conspiracy charge. Both sentences are to run concurrently.

The specific charge to which he pleaded guilty was that he struck with a club a white man named Murphy when the latter attempted to rescue a negro whom the mob was clubbing to death. After his arrest Schulz told of his part in the rioting, the authorities say, and offered to give evidence against several other men. Four additional arrests in the riot cases were made today.

MARLIN FARMER TO DIE FROM INJURIES RECEIVED FROM ATTACK OF NEGRO

Special to the News.

Marlin, Aug. 18.—Jack Smith a farmer living near Marlin was attacked by a negro hand working on his place yesterday about noon and his death is considered certain. The lower end of his heart is cut off and his intestines severed. The negro who used the knife is said by officers to be Waldron Allen, about 25, who claimed that Smith owed him fifty cents and would not pay it. The attack took place upon the streets of Marlin. The negro was immediately taken into custody by the officials. Smith, about 30 and single is a man of many friends in and around Marlin.

Threats of mob violence have been heard.

FERGUSON TELLS OF FULLER VOTE

SWEARS ON AUSTIN STAND HE SAW SPEAKER'S BALLOT AS "ABILENE."

By the Associated Press.

Austin, Aug. 18.—The West Texas A. & M. locating matter came up again this afternoon at the hearing of Speaker F. O. Fuller's charges against Gov. James E. Ferguson, with the governor testifying that he saw the word Abilene on the second ballot cast by the speaker at the location meeting June 29, 1917.

Fuller, when on the stand, testified positively that he did not vote for Abilene on the second ballot, that the poll which they showed Abilene had received three votes was incorrect, and a subsequent vote which made the choice unanimous was mistakenly obtained.

Says He Saw Vote.

"I saw Fuller writing his vote on the second ballot," said the governor this afternoon. He added that he did not see Fuller write "Abilene," but that when he dropped his ballot in the hat, passed by Secretary W. E. Thomason, this word was on it.

Ferguson said prior to the locating meeting Fuller told him that if two votes, which Bruce Bryant of Haskell claimed for that town, failed to materialize, he would vote with the governor for Abilene. He narrated a subsequent conversation when a statement covering the situation was being considered, during which he claimed he said to Fuller:

"You voted for Abilene, you know you did, and you ought to come out like a man and say so."

He said Fuller replied: "I know I voted for Abilene, as I promised you I would do, but do not force me to say that—it would ruin me."

Denies Fuller's Charge.

The witness denied that as Fuller said he had ever suggested that he would ever support Fuller for congress if the speaker would help him to locate the school at Abilene.

He said that after Fuller signed the statement the choice of Abilene was fair, he told the governor he would not issue a call for a special session of the house to consider charges of impeachment, unless he first informed Ferguson.

"Notwithstanding his promise, he did not verify anything," said the governor.

Take Up University.

Most of today's testimony, all of which was given by the governor, was devoted to the university matter. Mr. Ferguson denied that he forced recess from office because they refused to do his bidding; said he wanted to let Dr. Vinson, the president, go because he did not consider him capable and went into a long explanation of his opposition to fraternities in the school. Recess was taken late today until Monday.

ROTARIANS PLANNING BIG BANQUET TO HONOR THOSE WHO AIDED IN CAMP WORK

Officers of the Rotarians announced last night that a committee consisting of Dr. I. L. McGlasson, R. E. Pellow, E. C. Patton, W. P. Killingsworth, J. P. Everett, C. P. Link and C. P. Hammond had been named to plan for a banquet the like of which Waco has never before witnessed in honor of the military committee, who has engineered the projects arising from the sending of Camp MacArthur to this city. Dates for the banquet have not yet been discussed, but plans relative to the affair, say Rotarians, will be announced within a few days.

73 DRAFT RESISTERS ARE HELD TO FEDERAL JURIS

By the Associated Press.

McAlester, Aug. 18.—Seventy-three alleged anti-draft rioters from Seminole county were held to the federal grand jury in bonds aggregating almost half a million dollars at the preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner R. P. McMillan here late today. Twenty-seven prisoners were liberated by the court, but held on $10,000 bonds as witnesses.

RUPPRECHT OF BAVARIA FEEDS MEN TO CANNONS TO STEM ALLIED TIDES

Germans Pierce Canadian Line at Lens For Instant, But Are Hurlled Back Again With Terrific Losses

By the Associated Press.

Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria continues to hurl counter attacks against the new positions captured by the Canadians in their recent offensive in the region of Lens. Saturday morning the Germans forced their way into the Canadian trenches northwest of the French mining center, but after serious hand to hand fighting they were ejected, leaving a considerable number dead on the battlefield.

On the Belgian front from the North Sea to the Ypres sector where the British and French in their offensive begun in the middle of the week took 1,800 prisoners and twenty-four guns, the French again have pushed forward, capturing a strong German point of support east of the Steenbeke river. The British have consolidated their gains and the artillery bombardment on this front again has assumed a degree of drum fire intensity presaging another victorious blow at the German lines.

Berlin Admits Loss of Langemark

The Berlin war office now admits the loss after severe fighting of the Belgian village of Langemark, northwest of Ypres, and says the German troops have occupied lines in front of the positions conquered by the British.

On the Alsine front the German crown prince directed a number of attacks on the French trenches, notably in the vicinity of Froimont, but all were repulsed. Preparations for a German assault in the Massiges sector of Champagne region were broken up by French fire. On the Verdun front a spirited French attack swept over the German positions in the Caurieres wood, enabling the French to retake all the trenches wrested from them August 15 and 17 by the Germans.

Aviators of all the belligerents on the western front were active as the week closed. French aviators shot down seven German machines and forced eight others to land badly damaged. On August 17, at night, French aerial squadrons dropped fourteen tons of explosives on German aviation grounds, railway stations and encampments. British airmen destroyed twenty-three Teuton airplanes and forced thirteen others to land. Eleven British planes and two French planes failed to return. The Germans claimed to have accounted for twenty-six entente allied airplanes.

WILSON TO FIX PRICE OF COAL

SUCH IS REPORT AT WASHINGTON AS REPORTS OF HIGH PRICES COME.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The President is deeply concerned over the coal situation. Even representatives of the operators admit that parts of the country face a shortage this winter and from the public complaints are pouring in that prices are out of all reason.

Three courses are open to the president. Under the food bill he may fix prices at the mines or to consumers or he may direct the government agency to requisition the output of all mines selling it to the public.

Officially who have followed the situation closely believe the president will direct the requisitioning of all coal now mined. This, it is understood, is the recommendation of the trade commission which has worked out a plan of procedure.

Plan Price Fixing

The trade commission, it is understood, has worked out a complete plan for price fixing in the event the president does not believe the situation requires commandeering. This program provides for government operation of mines refusing to sell their output at the prices fixed. The requisitioning plan, if adopted, would call for a division of the country into districts. Every operator would be paid for his product on a basis of cost of production plus a definite percentage of profit.

All the coal in the district would be pooled and sold to the public at one price although the prices fixed for different districts might vary considerably. Officials of the trade commission say no scheme could be worked out other than a system for requisitioning and price fixing whereby it would be possible to pay uniform prices for coal at the mines.

COSTA RICAN GOVERNMENT TO LEAVE PAN-AM. UNION

By the Associated Press.

San Jose, Costa Rica, Aug. 18.—The Costa Rican government, it is reported, is contemplating withdrawing from the Pan American union. The reason given is that it has not been possible for Costa Rica to have diplomatic representatives in the United States and consequently it does not have a representative at the union.

SIXTEEN ARE INJURED WHEN LAUNCH EXPLODES

By the Associated Press.

St. Louis, Aug. 18.—Sixteen men were injured tonight when a gasoline launch, belonging to the Mexican government, caught fire in the river here and exploded. Firemen who went out to fight the flames were on board when the explosion took place. Another launch also caught fire.

On the eastern front the military activity was largely confined to the Rumanian front. In southwestern Moldavia, forces of Archduke Joseph of Austria attacked the Rumanian and Russian troops taking more than 1,600 prisoners. In the last month according to the German general headquarters the Austro-Germans in Galicia and Rumania captured 42,000 officers and men, 275 guns, 548 machine guns, 50-60 rifles and a large quantity of war material.

The fighting has again broken out in the Caucasus both the Russians and Turks taking the offensive in sectors three hundred miles apart. Russians in the region of Kaharpur attacking for the first time since the revolution of the Caucasians, occupied a series of Turkish villages.

British naval forces, Aug. 15, engaged a German destroyer in the North Sea. The Teuton war ship, though repeatedly hit, escaped through the mine field in a mist. Later the British war ship attacked several German mine sweepers and according to a British Admiralty report severely damaged two of them. A German account of the clash says the English vessels withdrew from the engagement with all possible haste under a well placed German fire.

FRENCH WIN OBJECTIVES.

By the Associated Press.
British Front in France and Belgium, Aug. 18.—The French have captured their conquest of the enemy's territory south of the St. Jansbeek river which branches off into the Breenbek river. Two strong German redoubts, Less Lillas and Mondavi farm, which had held out against all attacks since the beginning of the allied offensive on Thursday, have capitulated and the French have pushed their front forward to a natural line formed by these two waterways.

DANIELS TELLS WOMEN TO SEND BLANKETS TO NAVY

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Secretary Daniels announced today that women, knitting woolen clothing and making other comforts for sailors, can forward them direct through the bureau of supplies of the navy inasmuch as they no longer accepted by the navy department when presented through the agency of the navy league. Mr. Daniels yesterday ruled that there could be no recognition of the navy league whatever in view of the controversy arising out of the league's charges that he had suppressed reports which should have been made public.

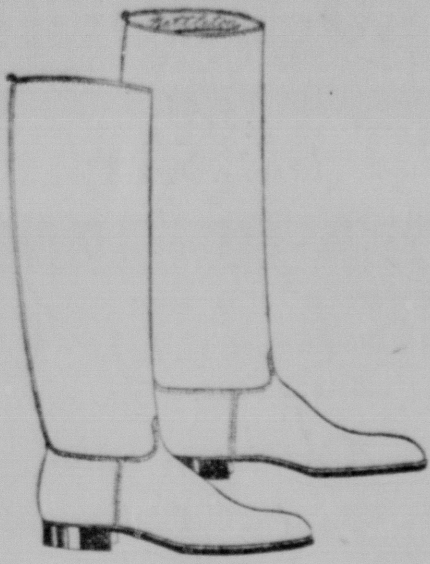

HARRY NEWTON OF WACO IS ORDERED TO FRANCE

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Lieut. Harry P. Newton, Waco, recent graduate of artillery school at Fort Monroe was tonight ordered by the war department to proceed to France at once to enter the allied artillery school just outside of Paris. He is one of two hundred artillerymen who is to go, fifteen of whom are from Texas.

Lieutenant Newton is well known here especially in Baylor University circles, where he has been a student for some time. When Lieutenant Newton left for the training camp in the spring he was classed as a senior, was well in his work and was popular.

COMFORT STATIONS PLANNED FOR WACO WHEN TROOPS COME

Arrangements for the establishment of public comfort stations in Waco for the benefit of the soldiers, who are to start arriving next week, are being rushed by the city and local organizations interested.

Every one of the city commissioners has pledged himself to vote in favor of the necessary stations.

The work was first taken up by the Waco war board through William B. Kelsey executive secretary of this board. Mr. Kelsey is a government representative and was sent here by the war commission on training camp activities.

The Y. M. B. L. next took the matter up, in an endeavor to aid the Waco war board. The matter has finally been brought forcefully home to the city fathers and they have agreed that all possible should be done to aid the situation.

The city officials have asked for a comprehensive plan regarding the establishment of comfort stations, and a committee from the Y. M. B. L. is working with Mr. Kelsey to outline a feasible program of work. This work will be started as soon as possible in order that these stations may be in place by the time the main body of troops arrives.

A special meeting will be held Monday with the commissioners, at which time final plans will be approved.

A Drop On a Touchy Corn

Instant relief! Then corn or callus lifts off with fingers.

Just think! You can lift off any corn or callus without one twinge of pain.

A Cincinnati man discovered this ether compound and named it Frezone. Any drugist will sell a tiny bottle of Frezone for very little cost. You apply a few drops directly upon a tender corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it right off.

Frezone is wonderful. It dries instantly. It doesn't eat away the corn or callus, but shrivels it up without even irritating the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, as well as painful calluses, lift right off. There is no pain before or afterwards. No soreness or smarting. Women should keep a tiny bottle of the dresser and never let a corn ache twice.

COUNTY VICE IS TO GET BROOM

CLEAN SWEEP OF WACO AND M'LENNAN COUNTY PROM-ISED BY OFFICIALS.

Gambling must stop in Waco.

The lid is soon to be put on gambling houses of every nature and clubs allowing gambling will be closed.

The road houses are also to go. They must go soon and their fate is to be that of the closed district of this city.

The war department has intimated that this is the wish of the powers that be.

Sheriff Fleming says he will act accordingly. The county attorney promises to do likewise and the constable and other police officials have agreed to take a hand.

The Waco Church federation, of which George W. Barcus is chairman, has taken a hand in the closing of such vice places.

The Waco board backs up the plan and other organizations working for the interests of the city in connection with the coming of a big body of troops to this city are in line.

County Attorney McNamara stated to a committee of the federation that he would prosecute all cases where violation of the gambling or road house laws is involved. He will prosecute on complaints filed, he stated. It had been intimated heretofore that there would be no prosecutions except on order of the grand jury.

Leslie Stegall, constable, gave like assurances to the committee, that is he stated he would make arrests where any violation of the law is shown.

The members of the committee lay stress on the fact that landlords of property are just as liable as inmates.

AUTO DEALERS OF WACO PLAN IMPORTANT MEET

At the regular meeting of the Waco Automobile and Accessory Association, held at the Manhattan Cafe last Friday, some things of vital interest to this association as well as to the City of Waco were brought up for discussion, and carried over to be voted on at the next meeting, which will be Friday, August 24. It is urged that each and every member be present at this meeting for final action will be taken at this time, and every automobile and accessory dealer in this city will be affected by the action taken at that meeting.

A new plan was adopted at the last meeting, whereby some member of the association will entertain those present with a short talk along the different lines of business which are of interest to all. Percy Willis of the Percy Willis Auto Co., was asked to make a little talk at the next meeting, and those who are present to hear Mr. Willis will undoubtedly get a great deal of good from his ideas and thoughts as he will express them at that time.

TEXAS TRAVELERS MEET TODAY AT RALEIGH HOTEL

The Texas Travelers will meet this morning at the Raleigh Hotel beginning at 9:30 and continue for about an hour in a pleasant business session, at which matters of interest to the traveling fraternity will be discussed. President J. W. Barnett said last night "These meetings are for the benefit of traveling men who make the state and with the splendid programs that are rendered it is well worth any traveling or city salesman's time to come up for an hour's mingling with his fellows of the road."

"At this morning's session Chairman W. B. Goolsby will present a feature address of interest to traveling men. The Texas fire escape law will be discussed, hotel conditions reported and properly referred and transportation subjects handled."

COMMITTEE REPORTS WILL BE HEARD TUESDAY NIGHT

Reports of committees will occupy part of the time of the directors of the Y. M. B. L. when they meet in regular weekly session Tuesday night.

There will be some new business taken up, also, but the nature of this has not yet been disclosed. The Y. M. B. L. is working on one or two matters which are about ready to be given out.

PERUVIAN PEAS PROMISE WONDERFUL YIELD HERE

Peruvian peas which were secured in Clarksville, Tenn., by Frank McNeese of 1715 North Fifth street, and planted, are proving a marvel in the way of rapid growth and fruitage. The pods are three feet long, and the yield of these peas probably will be enormous.

The peas are delicious, it is stated, and if they turn out as it looks like they will the problem of the high cost of living should be modified if the peas are cultivated here to any extent. Mr. McNeese will watch closely the results with the peas, which are stringless.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

LOOK MOTHER! IS TONGUE COATED, BREATH FEVERISH AND STOMACH SOUR?

California Syrup of Figs Can't Harm
Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, sour bowels and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

RENEW CAUTION ON EXEMPTIONS

NOT ALL MARRIED MEN ARE TO ESCAPE DRAFT IS CROWD-ER'S WARNING.

By the Associated Press.
Washington, Aug. 18.—Renewed instructions that drafted men who failed to report for service will be classed and punished as deserters was sent to United States district attorneys and agents of the department of justice tonight by Attorney General Gregory.

Provost Marshal General Crowder has ruled that persons who neglect to appear for examination will be accepted automatically and that the privilege of claiming exemption will be denied. It was to help carry this policy into effect that the attorney general acted.

Renewed discussion of the status of married men under the selective service law has been aroused by publication of President Wilson's letter to Senator Weeks dealing with this and other subjects. In many quarters, the president's statement that Senator Weeks' point as to the exemption of married men without doubt was well taken was interpreted as an indication that he approved exemption of any man of family who had not married merely to escape military duty.

A proposal specifically to exempt all married men was made when the bill was in the senate and amendment to that effect by Senator Smith of Georgia being lost by a wide margin. This fact, together with the regulation later promulgated by the president making exemption possible only in case of actual dependency are taken as indications that no general exemption of married men as a class will be given now.

MAJOR GENERAL PARKER,
NEW CAMP COMMANDER, IS BEST LIKED IN ARMY

quarters that he was not the last to arrive at the finish.

General Parker loves to ride. And he insists that the officers identified with his staff also ride. And they all can and do ride in a manner that makes the hearts of some of the other officers envious.

Organized Riding Club.

The general organized the Officer's Riding club of Fort Sam Houston and this club has each Sunday morning taken a ten-mile obstacle course that is no joke for the professional. After organizing the club he sent a personal request to all officers of the quadrangle to attend the Sunday rides and in a short time there were from 40 to 50 officers and women making the Sunday morning trip.

He also is a prominent figure at all gymkhana parties at headquarters and favors all such sport events.

It is safe to predict that there will be a new riding club in Waco in a short time as General Parker will not tolerate a camp without some form of riding exercise and entertainment.

The man who is to command Camp MacArthur was at one time with the United States volunteers. He was a Major in the Twelfth New York Volunteers in 1905 and in the same year was made a Lieutenant Colonel with the same outfit. He was with the Forty-Second United States Infantry the following year and won a medal or two for exceptional bravery during his service in the Philippines.

Attended Rutgers.

General Parker was an A. M. man at Rutgers college in 1878 and won distinction there for his work.

Following the death of Major General Frederick Funston, commanding officer of the Southern Department, last February, General Pershing was named commanding officer of this department. General Pershing had been a Brigadier General and ranked first for the place. Shortly after coming in command of the Southern department General Pershing was ordered east and then to France.

Upon his departure from Fort Sam Houston Brigadier General Parker took command of the department.

Up to that time he had been commanding the Twelfth Provisional Division, with headquarters at Camp Wilson, San Antonio. He was in charge of the Brigade headquarters at Brownsville last summer, fall and winter, during the time the National Guard troops were being trained at border stations.

Sent to San Antonio.

Upon the return of guard troops to their home stations, General Parker was sent to San Antonio where he took charge of the Twelfth Provisional Division. He remained there until taking command of the entire Southern department, at which time he moved across to headquarters in the quadrangle at Fort Sam Houston. He has since been in his offices there.

Reclamation Election August 21

Col. W. W. Seley of Waco, president of the Texas State Conservation and Reclamation Association.

Col. W. W. Seley of Waco, president and founder of the Texas State Conservation and Reclamation association, whose purpose is to secure a general conservation of the wasting natural resources of the state, caused by the unrestrained and riotous run-off of the flood and ground waters, has expressed his gratification at the splendid interest being taken in the amendment to be voted on next Tuesday, the 21st, which will remove those constitutional inhibitions which now prevent owners of property along Texas streams from combining to reclaim and improve such property so as to bring it into normal production.

"All the newspapers of the state," said the colonel, "seem to be using every power they possess to bring this important matter to the attention of voters so that a large favorable vote may be expected. Also patriotic people all over the state seem with one accord to be actively supporting the amendment. All this is very gratifying."

When the general decides upon a matter it is well decided upon. He takes plenty of time on big questions. He hears and makes himself well acquainted with all sides of the subject. Then he decides. He does it slowly but when he once makes up his mind there is no use trying to bring the subject up again.

Not so many weeks ago a reporter of San Antonio went into the office at the Quadrangle, San Antonio. The reporter had been well acquainted with the general for many months. He had never seen General Parker mad. He had pictured the big officer as one of the best natured people in the world and he is. But he is like all good natured people, when he gets mad he gets good and mad and then it is time to leave. It takes a long time to get him mad and it is seldom that any person has seen the officer with a real "peeve on." But the reporter had a grouse on. His city editor had found fault and he had missed the car to the army post and so he was in a hurry. You can't hurry General Parker but he does more work in less time than any person who ever did get in a hurry.

The reporter tried to hurry him. It did not work. He asked questions that would have made the average man mad. General Parker was not in the least disturbed—apparently. He tolerated the reporter and the latter insisted. Finally when the office was cleared of all but the general and the reporter General Parker turned around in his chair and said, "Please do not get me mad. Get out."

The reporter got out. The next day the same courteous treatment as formerly accorded and the matter was never brought up again.

The Commander's Aides.

Until a short time ago the young Captain Parker was aide de camp to the general. The other aide de camp, Lieutenant Schallenberg, has been called to Washington, as has also the general's son. The only one of the old time aides left is Lieutenant R. C. Raborg. Lieutenant Raborg was with the general during the time of his service on the border last year. He has been real close to the officer in command and has had charge of the great majority of personal activities of his superior. Lieutenant Raborg is never far from the general.

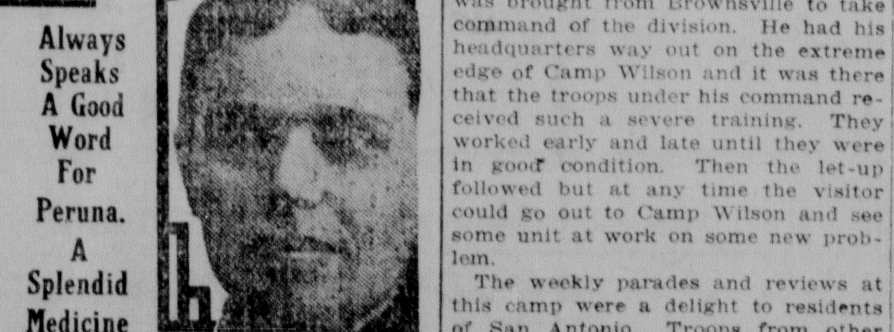

When the latter speaks at a public gathering, attends a dinner or luncheon of some civic organization, this aide is always sure to be at his right hand. Also Lieutenant Raborg is an enthusiastic horseman. He also is a polo player of merit and he takes great delight in stating afternoon riding events, gymkhanas and such entertainments.

It is expected by local officers as well as civilians that Lieutenant Raborg will accompany the general to Waco.

When the Twelfth Provisional Division was established at Camp Wilson, San Antonio, General Parker was brought from Brownsville to take command of the division. He had his headquarters way out on the extreme edge of Camp Wilson and it was there that the troops under his command received such a severe training. They worked early and late until they were in good condition. Then the let-up followed but at any time the visitor could go out to Camp Wilson and see some unit at work on some new problem.

The weekly parades and reviews at this camp were a delight to residents of San Antonio. Troops from other divisions would go out to the "Parker camp" and watch the boys drill and there were not outfits any place that executed better reviews and dress parades than those of the command of General Parker.

Always Speaks A Good Word For Peruna. A Splendid Medicine

Minister's Wife Cured of Catarrh and Throat Trouble by PERUNA

Mrs. O. F. McHargue, No. 147 W. Ninth St., Jacksonville, Florida, writes: "After I received your advice in regard to the supposed polypus, as I then could not afford to have it removed, I began to take Peruna, thinking I might at least get some temporary relief. By the time I had taken one bottle the polypus had disappeared, and three bottles cured the catarrh and throat trouble. I have recommended the medicine to several friends. As a minister's wife I come in contact with all classes of people, and shall always speak a good word for Peruna. I have given trial bottles to a few friends."

As An Experienced Motorist,
You Will Understand Why the Franklin Sedan is the Car for All-Year Use

FRANKLIN owners themselves demonstrated to us the practicability of the Franklin Sedan for all-year and all-road use.

"An actual discovery in motoring comfort," we have been told many times about the Franklin Sedan.

Because, regardless of the time of the year, its lightness and resilience make it a pleasure to drive over any road, anywhere.

In summer, for instance, you control breeze as it suits you; the V-front and the adjustable windows make this possible. No sun-glare and over-strained eyes—nor sunburn. Rain can come and go, without bothering you a bit. Special and costly motoring clothes are entirely unnecessary.

And a pleasure to maintain it. Records, (not talk—but actual proof) show that the average Franklin Sedan owner gets around 18 to 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline, while 10,000 miles to the set of tires is a common experience. That's the logical result of scientific light weight. The Franklin Sedan weighs 2610 lbs.—less than most touring cars—and costs less to maintain.

What we say about the Franklin Sedan is only what the Franklin owners themselves tell us. Your experience will permit you to see in the Franklin Sedan, the really practical all-year car.

The Franklin Sedan is now on display at our show rooms and ready for prompt delivery.

Getting Ready for the Soldiers Has Jumped Waco Business to Lively Tune

Getting ready for the soldiers!

Not only is "work being rushed" at the camp site which is to swarm with in a few days with 35,000 khaki-clad Sammies, but Austin avenue merchants are doing a little engineering work of their own, not to speak of mobilization activity so far as stocks are concerned which has been in progress for many, many weeks.

The big "business drive" in Waco is on. Everybody's getting ready for the doubling of Waco's population and the influx of untold hundreds of visitors who will be brought here by the location of Camp MacArthur.

Along Austin Street.

On Austin street it is estimated there will not long remain a vacant building. There are few vacant ones now to be seen. Other streets are reflecting the same conditions. Never since the time Dallas was a flag station has Waco had the business opportunity for which merchants are preparing. It is almost impossible, in conversation with local business men, to make oneself grasp the spectacle, also, of Cotton Palace crowds, augmented by the army. The saying appears true to the fullest extent of the word that "Waco won't know herself."

Starting on Austin street near Eighth the first improvement encountered is the building of F. E. Goodman, between Seventh and Eighth streets. It is being converted into two business rooms, announcement not yet having been made as to occupancy. Further east is the building belonging to Mrs. N. J. Lacy. This also is being renovated for the coming "emergency." Stetler's drug store has announced a plan of extending the soda fountain of that store to the rear of the present drug room. Improvements already have been completed along similar lines at many places in the city. Sam Freund & Co. plan a far extension of their soda fountain counter. The work on the new Rotan building at Fifth and Austin streets is being pushed as rapidly as possible.

Tent Affairs Planned.

Announcement has been made that a few vacant spaces on Franklin and Washington streets probably will be utilized by tent concerns, similar to ones seen in San Antonio. Barber shops in many instances have ordered new chairs, and the number of shining parlors already has rapidly increased.

Huge stocks of cigars and cigarettes are being stored by merchants so that the tremendous demand which is expected in this direction may not exhaust the supply. There has recently been noticed several new curio shops along Austin avenue and near the square.

STOP CALOMEL! TAKE DODSON'S LIVER TONE

New Discovery! Takes Place of Dangerous Calomel—It Puts Your Liver To Work Without Making You Sick—Eat Anything—It Can Not Salivate—Don't Lose a Day's Work!

I discovered a vegetable compound that does the work of dangerous, sickening calomel and I want every reader of this paper to try a bottle and if it doesn't straighten you up better and quicker than salivating calomel just go back to the store and get your money.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your thirty feet of bowels of the sour bile and constipation poison which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable.

I guarantee that one spoonful of this harmless liquid liver medicine will relieve the headache, biliousness, coated tongue, ague, malaria, sour stomach or any other distress caused by a torpid liver as quickly as a dose of vile, nauseating calomel, besides it will not make you sick or keep you from a day's work. I want to see a bottle of this wonderful liver medicine in every home here.

Calomel is poison—it's mercury—it attacks the bones, often causing rheumatism. Calomel is dangerous. It sickens—while my Dodson's Liver Tone is safe, pleasant and harmless. Eat anything afterwards, because it can not salivate. Give it to the children because it doesn't upset the stomach or shock the liver. Take a spoonful tonight and wake up feeling fine and ready for a full day's work.

Get a bottle! Try it! If it doesn't do exactly what I say, tell your dealer to hand your money back. Every druggist and store keeper here knows me and knows of my wonderful discovery of a vegetable medicine that takes the place of dangerous calomel.

Lemons for Complexion

Juice of two lemons made into creamy lotion can be used to bleach, whiten and soften the skin. Make a quarter pint cheaply!

The beauty lotion which is becoming so popular throughout the country is easily prepared by anyone, and a whole quart of it doesn't cost any more than a small jar of the common, ordinary cold cream.

Add the juice of two fresh lemons to three ounces of orchard white and shake well in bottle. Strain the lemon juice two or three times through a fine cloth so no pulp gets into the lotion, then it will keep fresh for months. Regardless of what price you pay or how highly advertised, there is nothing else really more meritorious in beautifying, softening and clearing the skin. As a tan and blemish remover, also to remove oiliness, freckles, and sallowness lemon juice has no rival. Massage it to the face, neck, and arms once or twice each day, and just see if it doesn't bring out the roses and hidden beauty!

Lemons have always been used to bleach the skin, but pure lemon juice is too highly acid, therefore irritating. Try it! This sweetly fragrant lotion will speak for itself. Any drug store or toilet counter will supply the three ounces of orchard white at very little cost, and the grocer will supply the lemons.

MARLIN MEN ARE EXPECTED TO BE SENT TO FRANCE SOON

Special to The News.

Marlin, Aug. 18.—In keeping with the announcement of the war department that a number of young officers who have just received their commissions would shortly be sent to France, it is learned here today that three of the young officers who have just returned from Leon Springs are in this number. They are First Lieut. Noman Cavitt, First Lieut. J. G. Qilort Jr. and First Lieut. I. L. Peterson.

Capt. George A. Stallworth and First Lieut. Willis Dunkum and Second Lieut. Lee Hunnicutt have arrived from Leon Springs for a brief visit with relatives before going to assigned duty.

FICKLE J. PLUVIUS AROUSED VAIN HOPES AGAIN

"The Flirtations of J. Pluvius."

That is the title to a little booklet which might have been written in Waco Saturday, taking as the subject matter the manner in which the clouds cooled, caressed, delicately sprinkled, and then sailed away from the pleading earth in Central Texas.

It looked very much as though the clouds were going to make it possible for the boats at the lock and dam to come up to Waco on the crest of a rise, but instead of that the whole situation sifted itself down and resolved itself into a little sprinkle which did not lay the dust satisfactorily. No rain of consequence was reported in the county.

SAYS LAND OWNERS SHOWED LIBERAL SPIRIT

While in Waco yesterday N. S. Davis, commercial agent for the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, corrected an impression regarding the Canadian bridge on that line in the Panhandle. The Canadian bridge was washed out several days ago, and it was thought that trains on the Denver sill were detouring, but Mr. Davis said that it only required two days to fix the bridge, and that trains are running as usual on that line.

TENT SERVICES

A large congregation turned out Friday night to greet Evangelist Barnes and Taylor in their first meeting under the big tent which is now located at Eleventh and James streets, just one block from South 12th car line. Special evangelistic services will be conducted Sunday night, and the meeting will continue throughout the week, each night at 8 o'clock.

GRAND CHANCELLOR WILLIS HAS GONE TO ST. LOUIS

Grand Chancellor W. S. Willis of the Colored Knights of Pythias of Texas left Waco Saturday afternoon on the Texas Special of the Katy railroad, accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Kirk, bound for St. Louis. The object of Grand Chancellor Willis in going to St. Louis was to attend the meeting of the supreme grand lodge, Knights of Pythias. A special sleeper was attached to the train at Dallas for use of those making the trip from Texas.

The meeting in St. Louis was to have been held several weeks ago, but was postponed.

FIRE OF LAST WEEK AT MART DESTROYS HOMES

Special to The News.

Mart, Aug. 18.—A fire at an early hour Tuesday morning completely destroyed the homes of L. L. Fretwell and J. H. Lloyd. The blaze started in the Fretwell residence while the entire family were absent. Mrs. Fretwell and the children are in Colorado, while Mr. Fretwell was at Waco. Nothing was saved from this residence, but a few articles were saved from the Lloyd house. The entire loss has been estimated at $5,000, and the insurance on the Fretwell home was $2,500, and $220 on the Lloyd home.

DEATH OF MART WOMAN OCCURS AT SANITARIUM

Special to The News.

Mart, Aug. 18.—The death of Mrs. J. D. Holder, of near Mart, occurred Thursday morning at four o'clock in the Providence Sanitarium in Waco. Mrs. Holder's death came nine days after an operation, from which she seemed to be recovering until just a few minutes before her death. The body was sent to Mart, and funeral services conducted in the Methodist church by Rev. J. W. Mayfield. Burial was made in the Mart cemetery at five o'clock. Mrs. Holder is survived by her husband and four children.

CORYELL COUNTY MEN GET COMMISSIONS FROM CAMP

Special to The News.

Gatesville, Aug. 18.—The Coryell county men at Leon Springs won as follows: J. J. Cobb and Robert S. Miller won captaincies; O. F. Watkins, Adolf Fischer, Dan McClellan and John G. Drummond came out as second lieutenants.

SPAIN WILL REMAIN NEUTRAL IN GREAT WAR, PRIME MINISTER ANNOUNCES TO THE WORLD

HEAD OF THE GOVERNMENT MAKES OFFICIAL STATEMENT TO HERBERT COREY THROUGH CABINET MEMBER—TALK OF REVOLUTION THERE, HE ALSO DECLARES IS ABSURD.

BY HERBERT COREY

Madrid, July 20.—"Spain will certainly not voluntarily abandon her neutrality."

"Every responsible man in politics and finance appreciates the importance of close relations with England and France, especially in commercial and the Mediterranean and Moroccan questions."

"Spain has greatly prospered during the war, except that the fruitgrowing areas have suffered by reason of the inability to export."

Those are the three declarations of greatest importance made to me in writing by the Marquis de Lima, the Spanish minister of state, in effect the statement is that of the cabinet as a whole, for I had submitted a list of questions to be answered. By precisely at that moment the Barcelona affair broke out, in which a group of rebelliously inclined deputies sought to hold a meeting of parliament against the orders of the government. Nothing happened of any consequence, but in a Latin country anything may happen at any time. That is why the windows of the lower floors are crossed by huge iron bars and why shop windows are covered by steel shutters at night.

Premier Dato asked the Marquis de Lima to respond for him. His statement that Spain will certainly not abandon her neutrality should put an end to the irresponsible rumors that are constantly being floated to the effect that Spain will take this belligerent action or that. The Romanones ministry fell because Spain feared Count Romanones might dump a war in Spain's lap at any moment, after his note in which he sent a practical ultimatum to Germany for her attacks upon Spanish ships. With Romanones the Liberal party went out of power—although there was a short ad interim administration by Garcia Prieto, a Liberal leader—and the Conservatives with Dato as premier took the cabinet.

Premier Not Pro-German

I am assured by a diplomat who is a close friend and warm admirer of Senator Dato that the latter is by no means pro-German in his attitude. In popular opinion, however, he is credited with at least holding the scales very sternly balanced between the Allies and Germany, while Senor Maura, leader of the minority wing of the Conservative party, is seriously close to being a Germanophile. In a recent speech Maura took the ground that Spain must remain on friendly terms with the Allies because she must. He instanced her lack of preparation, her geographical position and the Mediterranean and Moroccan question as proof. Then he went on to give in the most heated language the reasons why Spain must not love the Allies even though she works with them.

It is this wholly business-like attitude that the Spanish cabinet takes toward the war and the Allies today. Marquis de Lima made the explicit statement that Spain will not abandon her neutrality "voluntarily," as "Spain has no engagements but those which are known and which do not extend to any war contingencies. She has no aspirations of aggrandizement and public opinion sticks to neutrality." In response to the next question, in which it was suggested that the lower orders are pro-Ally, but that the ruling classes in Spain are for the most part pro-German, the Marquis de Lima replied as follows: "Every responsible man in politics and finance appreciates the importance of close relations with England and France, especially in commercial questions and in the Mediterranean and Moroccan fields. Spain esteems also the general intercourse and good relations with Italy and the United States. Irresponsible people, whether high or low, show their personal sympathies for any of the belligerents, and it so happens with the press, but this does not alter the clear and definite position of Spain in international politics, as established by the conventions of 1906, 1907, and 1912, which do not exclude friendly relations with all nations."

In a single paragraph the attitude of official Spain is revealed, as I have found it. One does not expect from the minister of state an expression of sympathy for the allies' cause. He is the reasons why Spain must remain on friendly terms with the entente powers. The significance is that every other politician one meets states the same reason, if not in the same words, but is apt to join to them an indication that Spain's course is dictated by practical reasons alone. The Spanish drawing room and office are assuredly pro-German. It is to the great majority of less important folk one must look to find real glowing sympathy with the allies.

Revolution is "Absurd" Marquis de Lima dismissed an "absurd" the query whether Spain is on the brink of a revolution. He said that the unrest in Spain, "grossly exaggerated in the reports, is the effect of quite temporary factors which will soon be dispelled. Constitutional monarchy has the deepest roots in Spain. It is, one may say, synonymous with the welfare and prosperity of the country. During the short time that monarchical institutions ceased to exist in Spain the country was ravaged by civil war, the debt was not paid, factions dispensed power, and all was anarchy and dissolution. Happily the restoration of King Alfonso XII., the father of the present king, put an end to those evils."

In this Marquis de Lima and the Count Romanones are only partially in agreement.

"The monarchy," said Romanones in an interview, "is necessary to the well being of Spain. But the present unrest is produced by factors which have more than a temporary value. They inevitably point to a change to a more liberal form of government."

"The monarchy must become more democratic, or it will cease to be." It had been widely reported that Spain has been most prosperous. In because of the war. One heard stories of farmers begging along the Andalusian roads and children starving in cities. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The Andalusian has suffered, because Andalusia produces only fruit as an export crop, and little fruit is being exported. Elsewhere

Spain has been most prosperous. In reply to questions bearing upon the question Marquis de Lima said:

"There has been no suffering except because of the natural elevation of prices on account of the war. On the whole Spain has earned much money during these three years. Exporters of fruits have suffered, but agriculturalists in general have not. Wages have increased considerably because of the war. There has been a certain amount of internal development, which I think will be maintained after the war. Spain's greatest need is the proper exploitation of her vast natural resources."

"How long will the war last?" "It is difficult to foresee. It seems that it will last longer than 1917, but it is better to abstain from prophesies."

G. M. HUNTER, FORMERLY OF Y. M. C. A., TO ENTER CAMP

G. M. Hunter, once physical director of the Y. M. C. A. at Waco, will enter training at Leon Springs August 27. Mr. Hunter was a member of the first training camp, but had to drop out on account of a serious accident in a train wreck. He was burned about the face and neck with sulphuric acid, but the injury will not affect his general fitness. His eyes were spared injury.

Goodyear Tires Are Easy to Get in Waco

WE have the friendship of the larger portion of the motoring public in Waco. We want to hold it; to continue to grow and prosper.

We want to add new friends, wherever we can.

We think the best place for our appeal to new friends, and for our regard for old, is in our part of the exchange between us—in the tires we build.

For that reason, Goodyear Tires will in themselves express the policy of our whole institution: value given for value received.

They have always expressed that, and they always will, so long as sincere purpose and able effort can accomplish it.

We are selling Goodyear Tires on the basis of the good that is in them, and on nothing else.

We employ no lure of delusive discounts, definite mileage guarantees, so-called "free service."

Every one of these fictitious inducements has to be paid for—we lump the saving and put it back into the tire. And the money you pay us for tire value buys tire value, and that alone.

If you are a Goodyear Tire user, you know already what the Goodyear method means to you—your tires have computed it for you in extra miles delivered, in extra months of service, in consistent freedom from trouble.

If you are not a Goodyear Tire user, you owe it to yourself to learn what it can mean to you—in temper, time and dollars saved.

Any of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers in Waco will be glad to furnish the equipment for your instruction—a set of Goodyear Tires. They'll do the rest; depend upon it.

The Truth About Corns

You have read much fiction about corns. Were that not so there would be no corns. All people would use Blue-jay.

Here is the truth, as stated by a chemist who spent 25 years on this corn problem. And as proved already on almost a billion corns:

"This invention—Blue-jay—makes corn troubles needless. It stops the pain instantly, and stops it forever. In 48 hours the whole corn disappears, save in rare cases which take a little longer."

That is the truth, and millions of people know it. Every month it is being proved on nearly two million corns.

So long as you doubt it you'll suffer. The day that you prove it will see your last corn-ache.

It costs so little—is so easy and quick and painless—that you owe yourself this proof. Try Blue-jay tonight.

WACO BUSINESS TO FLY FLAGS

When Waco wakes Monday it will see more flags in the city than ever before have been displayed here.

That is they will, if the request of Mayor Dollins, the military committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the Waco war board, the Y. M. B. L. and business men, are given any sort of attention.

Mayor Dollins Friday issued a proclamation naming Monday, August 20, as Waco Flag Day.

This was done in compliment to Maj. Gen. James Parker, commanding officer of Camp MacArthur, who comes to Waco Monday morning to inspect the new army training camp here.

General Parker has never before visited Waco and the desire is to show the commander just how patriotic this city can be when a person of his rank comes on an inspection trip.

The Waco war board took the matter up Saturday and is asking that all business houses display flags. The Y. M. B. L. wishes the same thing done and the other organizations ask that extreme efforts be made to literally "plaster" Waco with the national colors.

Residents are asked to decorate their homes and if there is one single business house in the city which does not fly at least one flag, then some organization will be disappointed.

Some clubs cause scolding wives and some scolding wives cause clubs.

COURTMARTIAL TO BE HELD MONDAY AT CAMP

The court martial of the six negroes who participated in a disturbance the night after the arrival of the Twenty-fourth U. S. Infantry in Waco, has been advanced to Monday.

The trial will take place at Camp MacArthur and the court will be presided over by Captain Eugene Fales of the Twenty-fourth.

Captain C. F. Andrews, commanding officer of the Twenty-fourth, states that five of the six men of his command to be tried, will plead guilty. They are to be arraigned on charges of attempted murder. The other man will plead not guilty to the same charge.

EIGHT BALES OF COTTON RECEIVED AT GATESVILLE

Special to The News. Gatesville, Aug. 18.—Gatesville to date has received about eight bales of new cotton. The first coming in last Saturday consisted of two bales. The two gins were running today.

"UNCLE" KENNEDY DIES.

"Uncle" Henry Kennedy, an old-time negro, who had been with E. A. Woodward for the past fourteen years, is dead. Mr. Woodward saw that the old negro was properly buried at the cemetery at Bosqueville. The negro was nearly ninety years old.

It was announced yesterday at the Sanger Store that the contract for the new fixtures that are to go into the new Sanger Store now under construction had been awarded to two Waco concerns. The Milender Company and the E. Nelson Manufacturing Company. The show cases and other fixtures are to be the finest ever turned out in Waco. The contract went to Waco concerns regardless of the fact that out of the city and out of the state concerns made very attractive bids for the business.

It has always been the policy of the Sanger Brothers to patronize home concerns and while it is planned that every feature of the new store shall be the best and most modern possible to procure, it is gratifying to Waco people to know that the best can be produced right here at home. Experts have been busy for many months laying out floor plans and interior arrangements for the Sanger store with the result that the finished product will present one of the most up-to-date convenient and thoroughly comfortable shopping places in the South. The same experts who designed several of New York and Chicago's largest and most successful stores have planned the interior of the Sanger store here in Waco and their ideas in fixtures and other details are to be followed out in the work to be executed by the Company and the E. Nelson Manufacturing Company.

Flag Day Tomorrow

Every Home, Every Building, and Every Automobile Should Be Decorated

Mayor Dollins has proclaimed tomorrow, August 20th, as Flag Day, and every home, every building, and every automobile in Waco should be decorated with United States Flags.

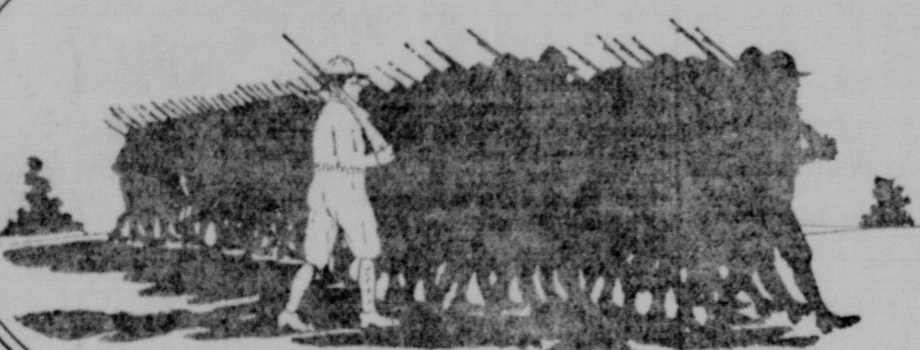

This Special Flag Day is in honor of Major General James Parker, who will be the commanding officer at Camp MacArthur.

You'll find the Sanger Store Flag Department Prepared to Serve You With United States Flags of all kinds as well as Red, White and Blue Bunting.

All Central Texas Is "GREATER WACO"

Buying Your Supplies From Waco Jobbers and Manufacturers Will Pay You in Dollars and Cents
WACO IS A GREAT WHOLESALE, JOBBING AND DISTRIBUTING CENTER

ALL CENTRAL TEXAS PROSPERS AS GREATER WACO GROWS

The work of the various commercial organizations of Waco is to help the city grow in population, in factories, in wholesale houses, in transportation facilities—this work is not undertaken blindly, nor for the benefit of the few. What helps one, helps all. The more many-sided a community, the broader its interests, the less it is dependent for its prosperity on one or a few lines of endeavor—the better it is for the laborer as well as the banker, for the professional man as well as the merchant.

And in the same way that every Waco citizen is benefited by the growth and prosperity of the jobbing and manufacturing interests of this city—just so is every individual who looks to Waco as his wholesale or jobbing center.

In the final analysis, Waco is builded by the prosperity of the thousands of farmers on thousands of acres of rich Central Texas land. Yet Waco repays the farmer by creating a better market for his product. The interests of all Central Texas and of Waco are identical.

Who Are Your Home Jobbers—And What Is Your Interest in Them?

Your Home Jobbers—who are they and how are you concerned about them? They are the firms who extend you credit when you are financially embarrassed, and who carry your account when you are no longer able to pay spot cash.

They are the concerns who make good on defective goods without quibbling, and who stand back of their guarantees.

They are the firms who protect your interests at every turn, who give you advance information of changing market conditions, and who gladly advise you intelligently when you need help.

They are the firms who pay heavy taxes here at home, who pay out thousands of dollars annually in salaries to Waco employees and to traveling men who, in turn, spend money for food, clothing, groceries, hardware, furniture, doctor bills, etc., etc. Every dollar that is spent at home in this way increases the per capita circulation of money, and so makes times better and prosperity greater for all.

PARKER'S SELECTION AN HONOR TO WACO AND CAMP
MAC ARTHUR.

It is a special honor to Waco that Major General James Parker has been appointed to the command of Camp MacArthur.

General Parker has ranked with Generals Funston and Pershing. His efficient handling of the southern department has received much praise from Washington.

General Parker's selection indicates that Camp MacArthur is considered a vital part of Uncle Sam's training system. A man of General Parker's calibre would not have been selected for Camp MacArthur if the war chiefs at Washington did not propose ambitious plans in developing Waco camp.

The Waco camp is centrally located between the Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio settlements.

Is it not possible that there will be a man stationed at Camp MacArthur who will have general supervision over all the hundreds of thousands of men who will train in Texas?

SATAN PROPOSED TO CHRIST A
"PEACE BY NEGOTIATION," AND THE SAVIOR SPURNED
THE OFFER.

THE babblers who are crying for "peace by negotiation" would have us believe all that is necessary to end the war is for representatives of the belligerents to gather around a council table.

Unfortunately for their theory history shows "peace conferences" are often the seed plots for new wars.

Probably a majority of the devastating wars which have racked Europe for centuries originated in the patched up treaties of peace, in which greedy, short-sighted kings and diplomats bar-tered away the rights of peoples and parcelled out national territory as so much real estate.

On the other hand, "peace by victory" or "unconditional surrender" usually settles things for good. We have to go no further than our own civil war.

If Lincoln had listened to the conferees of his time and made peace, this continent would be split in twain between two republics armed to the teeth and ready to spring at each other's throats on the slightest irritation.

But he preferred peace with victory, and today the vanquished as well as the victors rejoice that the thing was settled forever.

It has not been five years since a horrible and bloody war sprang from a peace conference called to make a
"peace by negotiation."

The first Balkan war did not go to a logical conclusion because of the financial exhaustion of the belligerents, the outbreak of cholera in Thrace and threat of intervention by the big powers.

The diplomats of the warring states met in conference at London to patch up a "peace by negotiation." It was a typical diplomatic gathering. All the high-grade international crooks, burglars and second story men were there —either in the conference or lobbying around it. A peace which was a compromise of greedy desires, absolutely unrelated to justice, racial or national integrity or the economic interests of the people was patched up.

The ink was hardly dry on the treaty of London before a second and more deadly war broke out among the former allies, Turkey again butted in and Rumania hastened to jump on Bulgaria after she was down, and loot the loser.

Another patched up treaty was then negotiated—and altho it was more conclusive than the first it settled nothing
—it was a compromise of conflicting avarice. Austria was the sinister figure in the background of this second "peace by negotiation" and in the treaty of Bucharest were sowed the seeds which a year later sprouted into the war of the world.

Do we want any more "peace by negotiations" to be followed up a few months later by a new war—with a new line-up of nations?

"Peace by negotiation" is one of the favorite phrases of the motley elements which are trying to paralyze the strong right arm of America and avert the flood of Prussianism.

If this war is a war of democracy against despotism—a final struggle of western liberty against oriental slavery

—the Armageddon of civilization against barbarism—then "peace by negotiation" can only be compared to a truce between Christ and the devil.

The holy book tells us that Satan took Christ up onto a high mountain and proposed a peace by negotiation—and the answer of the Savior was war to the knife.

"I come not to bring peace but a sword," said Jesus, when speaking of the conflict of right and wrong.

If this is a war between autocracy and democracy—it is the final struggle.
The two forces have met on countless fields for thousands of years. But in all past ages there were uncivilized countries, peopled by free barbarians who renewed the fight for freedom and built up new civilizations based on the idea of individual liberty. Today there are none such. The whole world is in the death grapple and democracy must win or perish forever.

There will never be "another chance" for democratic principles if Prussia dominates the world and sets up her system in western Europe.

The best proof of that is the conduct of the German people today—still docile and obedient—heeding not the frightful tribute they have rendered to their masters—unshaken by the Russian revolution—blind to what all the rest of the world sees written in flame across the skies, which portend the dawn of human brotherhood or the sunset of civilization.

The German spirit is not a survival of a dead past—it is not the last stand of a doomed idea. In the nineteenth century the philosophy of despotism—of the "superman"—gathered fresh strength.

While the world at large basked in calm and dreamed universal democracy and peace, in Germany and elsewhere the doctrines of imperialism acquired fresh vigor. William T. Stead, who perished on the Titanic, foresaw this menace seventeen years ago when he wrote this remarkable prophecy:

"The bloody doctrines of Nietzsche have painted the sunset skies of the nineteenth century all too red, heralding a yet more crimson dawn."

A VOTE FOR FLOOD CONTROL IS A VOTE FOR PATRIOTISM AND A GREATER TEXAS.

YOU should go to the polls Tuesday.

An amendment to the constitution of Texas is to be voted upon. The amendment enables thirty-five million acres in Texas to be made productive.
Of this new empire, eighteen million acres is now overflood land, seventeen million acres is arid land, susceptible to irrigation. The proposed amendment unties the shackles which have prevented flood control and irrigation in Texas since the constitution of 1876 was adopted.

In brief, the amendment provides that districts may be developed which have the practical powers of self control that municipalities now have—that is, as far as drainage and flood control is concerned. The limitation that only 25 per cent of the value of any land may be assessed for flood control is taken off. Under the amendment, any amount that constitutes a good sound bond issue may be assessed.

Take for instance a piece of bottom land on the Brazos, which overflows yearly to such an extent as to be valueless. If but 25 per cent of the valueless acre could be assessed, there would be no chance of that particular acreage paying the burden of flood control which would make the plot worth $200 an acre. Under the proposed amendment, a group of keen engineers and bankers would survey the proposed flood control project, and loan upon security of the land to be benefited according to their own business judgment.

In the Brazos bottoms alone hundreds of thousands of acres will be benefited. The government has indicated its interest in the additional development of acreage of food products and has practically promised that it will give assistance to flood control work in Texas, should this state adopt the proposed amendment.

A favorable vote Tuesday probably means a hastening on the work of the Brazos dams. About 40 per cent of this work is now complete. There has been considerable opposition to more appropriation at this time because of war conditions. Should the Brazos be honeycombed with flood control and drainage districts, the government could be shown a program of improvement which would appeal to the common sense of the Washington leaders, who are urging scientific production and larger national totals of farm crops.

You will be doing "your bit" for your state and country by voting "yes" on the proposed amendment Tuesday. Be sure to vote.

W. W. Seley of Waco heads the state organization pushing the amendment.
That in itself is a guarantee of a large and favorable vote in McLennan county.

What Are You Doing?

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
BY
O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 18.—This is the day of the summer visitor in New York.
They come to see and to eat—principally the latter—for there is something in the tang of the salt air in Gotham that whets the appetite of the stranger and makes him laugh at dyspepsia and the other demonic brood of digestive ailments from the time he leaves until he departs.

In the first place dining out in New York regularly makes a fair sized bankroll look like Belgium after the Teuton frolic. Caterers will "cate" anything you want, but they exact their price—from a tip to the waiter and bus boy to the hat pirate as you leave. The visitor must expect this. It is a part of the New York way of "doing" not only the visitor but the regular city dweller.

Generally there is a desire to dine on roof gardens at least once. The most select roof gardens are atop the Ritz, Waldorf, Majestic, Astor and McAlpin.
The Ritz has a cozy little roof down town section. The Waldorf roof is commodious and cool. The Waldorf has a 50-cent cover charge for each diner.
The Astor has a 75-cent cover charge.
The Majestic has a dollar cover charge because it overlooks Central Park West and has what they call a "highbrow" cabaret—imported from London. The McAlpin has no cover charge.

The prices on all of the roofs are about the same for meals. A good dinner for two—sans wine—will cost about five dollars and the diners may remain all evening and dance. After all it is just as cheap as the theatre and much more delightful because the roofs are in the open air.

The Brevort and Lafayette near the entrance of Washington square are worth visiting. Both are French restaurants where dancing is not permitted but there are always interesting cos-mopolitans there and the atmosphere of the places smack of Paris.

On all the side streets between Thirtieth and Fifty Ninth there are the Red Ink table d'hotel palaces. The prices at those places range from 40 cents to 90 cents a dinner. Many of them have dancing and all have music.
The diner may see all classes of people in these restaurants and they are worth while visiting at least once.

The Claremont is a high class restaurant on upper Riverside Drive overlooking the Hudson and the Palisades.
There is no dancing here and the diner may reach it by taxicab or by an uptown Fifth Avenue bus. It is very cool and its clientele is select. The prices are about the same as at all first class places.

The Childs restaurants in New York are an institution. They are about two hundred of them sprinkled all over town. They are white tiled, clean looking and have waitresses. The prices are modest and the food is good and well prepared. The Childs people have their own dairy and chicken farm. One may dine well at Childs for about 60 cents on the European plan.

Then there are the inns to which the diner may motor in about a half hour.
Woodmaneten Inn is a favorite in West chester county. Among the others are Red Lion Inn, Lawrence Inn, Cos Cob Inn, and Blossom Heath Inn and the famous Holly Arms. An hour's motor ride will take the diner to the Naseau Hotel at Long Beach. It has become very popular of late. The dining room is on the edge of the beach overlooking the ocean and there is a spacious dancing floor with good music. The prices are high but the food and service are excellent.

The Aster Stables—where the diner eats in stalls—is a famous luncheon place on Thirty Fourth street near the Aster.

Sergeant-Major McLeod, the shot-up hero who calls "I want you" from posters all over the country, is in New York securing recruits for the British army. There is a lot of military information which Sergeant-Major Mc-Leod gives that is of interest to young America, who will soon go to the trenches.

The chief annoyance of the soldier in the trenches is something not near so appalling at first thought as high-explosive shells. On the contrary it is something so minute that it is hardly visible. The name of it is vermin.
Here you have, the price vermin catching method of the western front.
"Get a bag of salt from your company cook," he says. "Go down to the bank of a river or canal, peel your shirt off, turn it inside out, lay it down on the bank and sprinkle on all the salt it will hold. The vermin will begin to eat the salt, it will make them very thirsty, and after a while they will have to go down to the river for a drink. And at that moment, grab your shirt and run."

Much Ado About Nothing

We hear of peace
From Greece,
From Helsingfors, Madrid and Berne
And from Lucerne;
From Copenhagen and Stockholm, Belgrade and Rome;
From Vladivostok, Tokio
And Kokomo;
For any point that we can wish;
From Lisbon, Nish;
From Cairo, Cape Town and Shanghai
And Wai Hai Wai.
From all these points we daily hear That peace is near;
That Germany's about to quit
With factions split.
But we don't hear, amid the din,
Much from Berlin.

The people down in Washington don't seem to be kidding themselves about an early peace. It is apparent they don't take seriously those German peace overtures "via London."

The attention of the Society for the Suppression of Unnecessary Noises is respectfully called to a famous lecturer on domestic science who has just announced that: "To remain beautiful one must eat an onion, half a pound of spinach, a grated turnip and a handful of cranberries every day."
This is a time to conserve foodstuffs and become homely.

Dear R. K. M.: In your column you use the initials "w. k." to a great extent. What is the hidden meaning of the combination? It has been eating my heart away. Every friend I ask professes ignorance.

INQUISITIVE, Harlem.
"W. k." was first used by B. L. T., the original column man, in 1885 and has been used successfully since by every other. It is supposed to mean "well known," but it can be made to mean almost anything else. B. L. T.
also invented "helova," "damphool" and other column pleasantries which we all use.

I have just been in Chicago and discovered a deaf and dumb barbershop which is a wonderful success. A man started it in Franklin street with two chairs, but patronage grew so rapidly that he had to add two chairs a week.
Now he has a shop full of chairs and they extend down the sidewalk for a block and then turn the corner.

J. McCormack, not the thrush, but just plain J. McCormack, has dared us to use this contribution. Nothing gets our angora, so here goes:
"There was an old Doc named Kerensky,
Who, on saving his patient was bent-sky,
Gave the patient a pill
Which made him so ill,
That he sought a change of air in hell-ensky."

A LITTLE SLICE OF LIFE.
We are in favor
Of non-leakable ice cream cones.
Yesterday we sat in a crowd
And a lady who loved them so passionately
Sat on a tier of seats just above us.
The lady must have had warm hands,
For as soon as she began to hold a
New Cone it began to drip ice cream Down our back. She ruined a Perfectly good silk shirt and a Perfectly good disposition
For us. We wanted to tell her to Hold her thumb over the bottom of
The Cones, But one hesitates to tell
A Lady anything, especially a lady Who eats ten or twelve cones at a Sitting.

A creek of ice cream trickled down
Our spinal column for two hours.
But the lady's husband was with her
And he was a big guy with a gruff Voice, and every time we rose to Make a get-away he would growl:
"Set down!" and then he would Buy his wife another cone.
I have written to Mr. Hoover about
That couple of ice cream wasters.

Report says the major portion of our army will be housed in cantonments in two months. But what about the Colonel portion?

MAKE IT A MASSACRE, PAUL.
Sir—If you call me up and I'm out I'll be because I am on my way to

TO GAIN MIND CONTROL
By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE.

EX-PARTE.

"I realize," says a correspondent,
"that in mental concentration is mental power. But how are those of us to develop concentration who are weak in it?"

Mind control, like control of any bodily organ, increases with practice. For persons so deficient in mind control that they have difficulty in concentrating even on matters relating to their business I recommend a simple exercise devised by Dr. Charles H.
Ring.

"When you feel," Dr. Ring suggests,
"that your thoughts are getting the better of you, and that you cannot hold on to one thought for any length of time, just shut your eyes and imagine a large, black disk in front of you."

"At first you will see in your mind's eye myriads of thought forms coming into this disk from all directions. Experiences that you have recently had will take form and push themselves toward the center of the disk."

"You must throw out these thought forms as soon as they enter, and, if you can get the space cleared, don't let any of them pass the circumfer-ence. Keep a perfectly blank disk in front of your mind's eye."

"If you can keep your mind in this blank, passive condition for a few seconds, and can feel that your mind is in a peaceful and quiescent state, then it is the time to bring up before your mind's eye the object upon which you want to concentrate your mental force."

"However, to obtain satisfactory results, you must concentrate in a very calm and quiet manner. The thought vibrations must be harmonious."

"It is very much like using a telephone. If you get right up to the instrument and talk as loud as you can into it the person at the other end of the line will not be able to understand you at all."

"But if you talk moderately and in a natural tone the person at the receiver will hear every word distinctly, provided, of course, that the line is in good working order."

Similarly with the mental exercises prescribed by Dr. Ring.

It will not do to undertake it in a strained, impatient, hasty way. Go at it slowly, calmly, patiently.

Close your eyes, sit back in your chair, relax physically, and picture to yourself the imaginary black disk.

When the mind begins to wander, and the undesired thought forms emerge into your consciousness, quietly use your will to call up and hold the disk once more. Let the imaginary disk be at first your sole object of concentration.

Practice this exercise daily, though never so long that you become mentally exhausted.

For some days, to be sure, mental fatigue may soon beset you. But you will gradually find it less and less tiresome to hold the disk before your mind's eye—and less tiresome to concentrate or anything else that is of practical importance to you.

For your mind will be submitting

America Will Fix Basis of Peace, Says Strongest Spanish Leader

BY HERBERT COREY.

MADRID, Spain, July 19.—"Spain admires the United States today, for you have shown that you will fight for an idea."

"We expect great things from you—extraordinary things. We expect to see your wonderful industrial and manufacturing resources create instruments of war on an unprecedented scale."

"It is unwise to attempt to prophesy, but I see no immediate prospect of peace. I think that the entrance of the United States in the war will have as one result that no peace will be granted until it is a permanent and enduring peace, on foundations that will stand."

In three paragraphs I have attempted roughly to summarize the interview granted to me today by Count Romanones, until recently premier of Spain, and accounted by men who are in touch with the extraordinarily tangled Spanish politics as the most powerful individual in Spanish politics today. He is in his early fifties. He entered politics when he was 32 years old, and since then has been a member of seven governments. Time after time he has held office because even his political opponents conceded that he was the one man who could handle the embarrassing situation of the moment. His return to power is confidently predicted by his friends.

Romanones is not of great stature, but compactly built and evidently a man of great physical strength. Although a member of one of Spain's greatest families, he is extraordinarily democratic in manner and candid in speech. His personal character was once outlined by the present king, in comparing Canalejas, then a power in politics; Dato, premier at present, and Romanones.

"If the devil were to enter this very room," said the king, "Canalejas would make a speech to him. Dato would offer him a cigarette and win his affections, and Romanones would try to run him through with his sword."

Romanones's ministry fell recently as a result of a stiff note he addressed to Germany, protesting against the continued sinking of Spanish craft by the U-boats. It amounted to an ultimatum. Although that note is believed to be the true sentiment of the nation, which is the proud and courageous nation of old, it was held ill-judged politically. That Romanones remains in an advantageous position is obvious. When the allies win, his return to power seems probable.

"The Byrons of Today."

"What impression was produced in Spain by the entrance of the United States into the war?" I asked.

"Spaniards admire the United States greatly," was his reply. "You are going to war for an idea and not for any hope of material gain. We had not thought the American business man capable of such an action. We had admired his enterprise, his shrewdness, his capacity for handling large organizations, but we had believed him to be interested only in his material welfare."

"We thought you were a nation of money makers and we find instead that you are a nation of idealists. I can only compare your action to that of Lord Byron, in going to Greece to fight for the freedom of Greece. The business men of America are the Byrons of today, and are making their sacrifice for freedom as unselfishly as did he."

"The effect of the American intervention is certain to be an extraordinary one. We are accustomed to look to America for great constructive work and I believe we shall see constructive work from you in the field of war. I can put no bounds to your possibilities—fleets of submarines, thousands of airplanes, millions of men, if need be."

"As for the effect of your intervention upon the probable duration of the war, I find it is a hazardous thing to attempt to prophesy. At the moment, however, I can see no prospect for an immediate peace. My impression is that because of American aid the war can now be fought out to a definite conclusion and that peace will not be concluded except upon terms that will render a repetition of this conflict impossible. It means that another war in a few years' time is not to be feared."

Senor Romanones did not find that the expressed intention of American statesmen to limit exportations to those neutral countries which have aided in Germany bore upon Spain, as Spain, by reason of her geographical situation if for no other reason, has never engaged in this traffic. Before quoting Romanones's reply to the question, "What is the attitude of Spain toward the United States?" a paragraph may be interpolated.

Americans as Idealists.

An American of wide experience in Spain recently said: "Eighteen years only have passed since the Spanish-American war and that is too short a time for a proud nation to forget. One never hears the war referred to, but underneath there has been a deal of bitterness. Spain has never forgotten that we declared war against her, for a cause that seemed trivial in her eyes, nor that she was unprepared. She sent Cerveras fleet to sea, when those acquainted with it doubted if it could even stand North Atlantic weather. The result was never doubted, but the men went with a smile."

Now for Romanones: "The Spanish soul is generous and proud," said he. "It is responsive to the higher things. It admires the nation which has shown itself able to rise above sordid considerations and give itself freely for a great idea. We have read and admired President Wilson's message in which he spoke of making the world safe for democracy. The nation which follows such leadership has made itself known to the chivalry of Spain."

At the moment in which Senor Romanones was speaking there were political disorders in Spain. The unrest in Catalonia had become more formidable than ever. A meeting of members of the Cortes had been called in Barcelona, against the express prohibition of the government. Therefore his reply to the question which follows is of importance:

"Is the present unrest an outgrowth of merely temporary conditions? I had asked, 'or does it indicate an inevitable trend toward a more liberal form of government?'"

"Most certainly the latter," said he. "There is a movement throughout the world toward an extension of democratic privileges to all governments. The Spanish form of government must be modified to suit the times, though the nature of the modifications and the time of the development are not to be suggested at present."

Count Romanones closed by a statement that Spain will offer after the war great opportunities to American capitalists and declared that they will be met in a mutually helpful spirit. Spain has profited by the war, on the whole, said he, and an era of internal development has been forced by the necessities of the war, which will continue when peace comes.

DRAGON CAVE IS PRISONERS' DOOM

PRIEST RELATES CAPTURE OF ENTIRE GERMAN REGIMENT IN WEST FRONT DRIVE.

By the Associated Press.

FRENCH FRONT, July 12.—The story of the capture of a company of Germans who were trapped in the Dragon's Cave near the famous Chemin Des Dames when the French troops stormed and carried the German position along that historic road was told today to the Associated Press correspondent by Father Py, a Francisco priest who with a doctor, brought the prisoners into the French rear lines. Father Py was acting as stretcher-bearer to one of the most celebrated regiments of the French army, the 152nd Infantry.

The Dragon's Cave is near the farm of Hurtebise, or what was a farm for it has now become nothing but a heap of bricks, mud and splintered timbers.

Once a Missionary.

He is a small man, is Father Py, who when the war broke out was engaged on missionary work in Brazil. The call of his country brought him back to France, and although he is a native of the south of France he volunteered for service in the ambulance section of the 152nd, a regiment from the Vosges. He explained to the correspondent how on the day of the battle he had been detailed to go out and tend to the wounded, but not to advance beyond a certain trench, which was very near the most advanced French line. When he got there he found no one. The French soldiers had gone forward with one bound right in the track of the curtain fire put up by the artillery and had reached the German trenches on the other side of the crest out of sight with miraculously slight losses. The priest and a companion looked about in search of wounded but could find none. Then thinking under the circumstances they were justified in disobeying orders they climbed over the top of the trench and went further forward.

A little farther on they saw a German running about with his clothes aflame and uttering cries for help, at the same time pointing behind to a hole in the ground where two other men were gasping. The priest went on thinking to find some more wounded—perhaps men of his own regiment—but soon he saw they were Germans. At once he raised his crucifix in the air in the belief it would protect him, and he continued to advance. The Germans did not threaten him as he approached and soon he saw they were wounded.

Enters the Cave.

On arriving at the entrance to what he had believed was a dug-out he found the hole went far into the side of the crest. He entered the Dragon's Cave still holding his crucifix before him and shouting "Catholic." Inside he found the hole spread out in all directions and that it was full of armed German soldiers. Four or five of them were officers and under the impression some of them at least would understand French he called out in that language that he was a Catholic priest and that if there were any German wounded there he was prepared to administer the rites of the Church.

One of the officers spoke to him, asking him what he was doing there and what was going on outside. He informed him the French had made a long advance over their heads and had crossed the crest and that they had better lay down their arms, for they would either be killed or taken prisoners in any event.

The officers then held a discussion among themselves, at the end of which one of them with tears streaming down his face said the supposed they must resign themselves to their fate but they could only surrender to an officer.

Father Py scribbled on a piece of paper a note to one of the French captains, which was handed to his companion who had remained outside the cave.

Note Is Delivered.

While the note was being carried to the French officer, a German doctor in the cave showed the priest the resting place of several German wounded. Among them was a Jesuit priest who was serving in the German army as a soldier with whom the French priest spoke in Latin. To the other wounded Germans Father Py gave the consolations of the church.

Afterwards and while awaiting the return of his messenger with the French officer, Father Py advised the German officers to disarm their men in order to avoid any possibility of misunderstanding. He himself superintended the operation, telling each soldier to discard every weapon he possessed, but that they might retain small pocket-knives.

A little later, just when the process of disarmament was being completed a French officer—or rather a doctor—appeared at the mouth of the cave, and the German officers surrendered their swords and revolvers to him.

Then began the exit of the prisoners through the narrow entrance and they all marched through a communication trench back to French regimental headquarters with an escort composed only of the priest, his stretcher-bearing comrade and the French doctor. They were almost a company and their arrival caused considerable surprise at headquarters.

The little priest who always was a favorite in the regiment, with which he participates in all the hardships of fighting and in constant exposure to wounds and death, is now quite a hero. He never leaves the men to go on leave and did not even go to Paris when a detachment of the regiment went there to receive the decoration of the knotted cord in the colors of the military medal which has been conferred on it for having been five times mentioned in general army orders for bravery. The 152nd is the only regiment in the French army besides the Foreign Legion which has won this honor.

Only a Shell Hole.

As a result of its good work at Hurtebise and on the Calonne plateau further east, the Chemin Des Dames is now almost entirely in French hands. The ladies for whom it was constructed would scarcely recognize it in its present condition, for there is not a foot of its length which is without a shell-hole and the whole of the sheltering trees which formerly lines its sides have all been torn away.

To discover why Hurtebise has attained such prominence one has to learn of its high importance as a military position: It forms the highest point on the crest along which runs the Chemin Des Dames—the Ladies' Way.

The correspondent was able to note the peculiar value of this part of the crest when he went out to observe one of the many fights for its possession which have been waged since the French offensive began in April this year. From the southern side of the crest the way had to be made with eyes and ears alert and legs ready to jump into the near by shell hole to escape the splinters and high-explosive shell big enough to fell the most robust tree, which are poured into the valley at hazard by the German artillery on the other side. The German gunners cannot see the effects of their fire since they have lost the best observation points—hence the constant fighting to regain possession—but the rarely cease their bombardment, their hope being to disturb and hinder the supplies coming up to the French on the front line.

CLARENCE OUSLEY DISCUSSES WHEAT

By Clarence Ousley.

August 9, 1917.

It would be unfortunate if the world's demand for wheat next year and the government's guaranty of $2.00 per bushel should cause our farmers to upset their whole system of agriculture. While at College Station last week and later at Fort Worth and Dallas I learned that many farmers in the black lands are giving notice to their tenants to vacate at the end of the calendar year and say they intend to sow wheat almost exclusively. I was told also that the flour millers intend to make an industrious campaign for doubling the wheat acreage in Texas for 1918.

As has been seen from the United States department of agriculture's publication in the newspapers of Thursday, August 9, no such increment is required for the nation's needs. Of course doubling the wheat acreage in Texas will not materially affect the gross supply of wheat next year and the question of a greater or less increase is a matter for the individual farmer to determine. Every man has a right to do as he pleases with his own land and I have no intention whatever of discouraging increased wheat plantings; on the contrary I advise a substantial increase, but I wish to make the point that it will be as much of a calamity in the long run to plunge on wheat as to plunge on cotton.

Hope for Surplus.

If the disposition, as indicated by the reports I received in Texas, prevails among farmers in other parts of the grain belt then it may come to pass that the country will have a surplus of wheat in 1918 and that the government will be compelled to buy at $2.00 and sell it for less, but the country will be deficient in other food and field crops. Corn is now selling in our state at $2.50 or more per bushel and hogs are selling in Pittsburgh according to today's paper at 17 cents. The country needs something else besides wheat and the farmer will need something besides the two dollars he will receive for his bushel of wheat.

It is rather a reckless kind of gambling to calculate upon 25 or 35 bushels to the acre next year in the black lands of Texas and if the tenant farmers are driven out much of the harvest may spoil for lack of labor. We cannot revolutionize our system of agriculture in any such fashion without very great disturbance to economic conditions and we can not restore a given set of conditions as easily as we can upset them.

If the tenants are driven from the black lands they may never return. There is a sharp demand for labor in northern industries and it is likely to increase during the period of the war. Men can not be expected to hang around from January until July waiting for a few weeks' work in harvesting wheat. My guess is that we will continue to lose negroes to northern industries and I see no possible hope to replenish our labor supply in any considerable volume. Therefore, farming that depends upon hired cotton to keep her principal mills going. Certainly we need an increase of wheat and Texas should increase as much as each farmer can provide without revolutionizing his system of farming. But to neglect other food and feed crops will seriously cripple our livestock industry and there now promises to be as great a shortage in meat animals as many other products of the farm.

Besides the problem of labor, the supply of grain drills now and of binders next summer is to be considered in any program of greatly increased acreage. It is all important for the wheat farmer to make sure of his seed supply at once and to prepare his land thoroughly and to plant early. The difference between thorough preparation and early planting on the one hand and poor preparation and late planting on the other is likely to be a difference of five bushels per acre and that five bushels under unfavorable crop conditions may represent the difference between profit and loss.

Price and Performance! Costs Less!! Acts Better!!!

The new balance we have attained in the Willys Six whereby we combine greater power with sturdier light weight makes it a snappier, livelier car—and easier to handle.

We want you to compare its performance with cars costing around $1600—the price of the Willys Six is $1295.

That's considerably less—and see if you don't consider the Willys Six a better performer.

Also the Willys Six stands out as one of the season's smartest cars in a comparison of appearance.

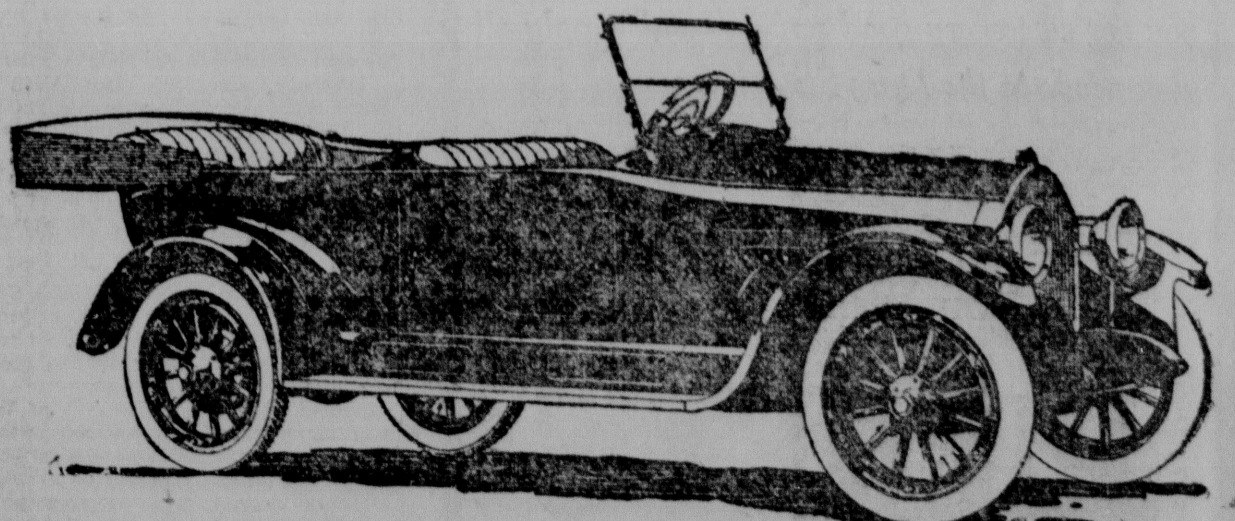

It would be hard to design a more beautiful car at any price—new double cowl body—slanting windshield—long low racy lines.

It acts the part and looks the part of a $1600 Six—think of the excess value at $1295!

ST. PAUL'S PLAN ARMY COMFORTS

REST ROOM AND CLUB HOUSE PREPARED FOR ARRIVAL OF TROOPS IN WACO.

Announcement was made Saturday by members of St. Paul's Parish that a rest room and club house for soldiers would be established at the Parish House before the arrival of the first of the Wisconsin and Michigan troops in Waco.

The house, 40 by 100 feet, makes an ideal club room for soldiers. The parish will install toilets, reading and writing tables and a dozen other features for the comfort and entertainment of the troops.

On the large front lawn at the Parish will be placed benches, in order that tired men may find an out of door rest. Additional lights will be installed.

The St. Andrews Brotherhood and Vestry is completing plans for the club room.

Electric fans will be installed and there will be music, games and other features of entertainment. Wm. B. Keisley, executive secretary of the Waco War Board was informed of this Saturday and many other organizations are planning similar plans for the soldiers.

40 DELEGATES HERE FROM MARLIN MEET

George J. Roark, assistant secretary of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce arrived in Waco Saturday and spent the day here. He was accompanied by M. L. Jacobs, secretary of the Lubbock Chamber and C. O. Car-

How to Reduce Your Weight

A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way.

If you are carrying around ten to sixty pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are bearing a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

Why continue to be a victim of superfluous fat? If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or strenuous exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend some time daily in the open air, take seven deep breaths each morning and night and get from any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night; also follow the other simple directions that come with the box.

Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight, and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, the step becomes lighter, your work easier; a more buoyant, vivacious feeling takes possession of your whole body and mind.

If you are overcast you should give this treatment a trial. You are very likely to be surprised and delighted. Amaze your friends, too!

Record of McLennan County Weather for 37 Years, Tabulated by Major I. H. Earle

This tabulated report of Texas rain fall for the past thirty-seven years was furnished by Major I. H. Earle of Hewitt. Major Earle is 82 years old, and is a weather observer for Uncle Sam, having never missed a report in thirty-seven years.

Now is the time to find out whether this is the driest year ever seen in Texas, or not. Nearly every one thinks every hot day is the hottest and every dry day the driest. Mr. Earle doesn't trust to his memory—he keeps a perfect record. Here it is.

Among other interesting things shown by the chart is that the average rain fall is something over 37 inches. If the law of averages holds true this year, Central Texas is due about 27 inches of rain within the next four and a half months. Overcoats and umbrellas will be at a premium.

News from Baylor

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Downes and their family leave August 23 for a month's stay in Virginia. They go direct to Lindale, Texas, where they will visit Dr. Downes' father, after which they go to Richmond to visit Mr. Downes' mother, Mrs. R. J. Willingham.

Miss Gertrude Brandes and Miss Grace Meier will have their wedding in September. They spent six weeks in California in the spring, which accounts for the present short holiday.

Mr. E. W. Provence, who accompanied his family to Baylor, returned to Waco for a few days. He is now in Dallas.

Mr. E. H. Sparkman of the registrar's office is out for a month's vacation.

Friday at 5 o'clock on the lawn adjoining Science hall, the summer commencement will take place. The address of the occasion will be by Rev. W. W. Melton, pastor of Seventh and James Baptist church, on the subject, "When a Man Comes to Himself."

There will be especially good music and the public is hereby invited without any special engraved invitation. There will be four A. M. degrees and about twenty A. B. degrees conferred.

Miss Myrtle Thompson of the department of expression in Baylor is teaching in the summer school of the Curry school at Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Collier of Tenth and Speight have as their guest Mrs. Collins' sister, Mrs. Lovelace, of Munford.

Homer Caskey and Lex Morris have been made sergeants in Dr. Paul Murphy's ambulance corps.

Prof. Sims Allen of the department of education will speak at Seventh and James Baptist church tonight.

Dr. J. L. Kessler is expected home from his vacation August 23. He has been spending it with friends and relatives in North Carolina.

J. E. Marsh left for his home in Livingston to answer to the draft call. Miss Louise Willis, who has been in the University of Chicago, will return about September 12. She writes that she has had a most delightful time and that she has learned to play golf and has become an enthusiast for the sport.

Dr. and Mrs. Schenck and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Ral will occupy the Webster place on Speight near Eighth.

M. B. Hays of Waco has returned from a trip to New Mexico and has accepted a position with the agricultural department of the government. His special duty will be to look into the causes of destruction of the pine trees in the University of Chicago.

Miss Sadie Buck of Temple high school, who has been teaching in the Baylor summer normal, has recuperated sufficiently from her operation to be removed to her home in Temple.

A large number of Baylor students will enter medical colleges this fall. Several of them go back for their second or third years. In general these students will go to Baylor Medical at Dallas or the state institution at Galveston, although some of them will go out of the state. The partial list includes: Boyd Alexander, Roger Gray, Grace Humphrey, R. B. Alexander, J. C. Faght, R. E. Moon, Ethel Pierce, H. E. Alexander, Paul Pierce, J. E. Root, Jr., Thelma Robinson, A. L. Lewis, A. J. Schuett, Mac Taylor, R. H. Tull, D. T. Byrom and Speight Jenkins.

Curator John K. Strecker has just returned from the bayou region of Eastern Texas, where he spent a week collecting material for the museum. Three days of this time was spent in camp on the Angelina river in company with a party of fishermen from Nacogdoches, consisting of Judge Frank Marshall, County Attorney Will Wade, Hon. A. A. Seale and Oscar Baxter.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Seale motored over from Corsicana to spend a few days with Mrs. Seale's aunt, Mrs. J. F. Greer. Mrs. Seale is an old Baylor girl and will be remembered as Miss Sadie Spell, the niece of Judge W. E. Spell.

The Baylor bridge over the creek has been finished with the exception of cleaning away the dirt and debris. The bridge is a great improvement over the old structure.

The soldiers of Captain Clarke's company have left the Baylor neighborhood and are now encamped on the ground of the old St. Basil's school.

Professor and Mrs. Sims Allen will leave Saturday for a month's vacation on the farm of Mr. Allen's father in Hamilton county near Hico.

Misses Inez and Irene Maaz of Waco will teach the coming session at Saracoma, Texas, where A. H. Smith is superintendent.

Miss Dora Watson, A. M. of Baylor, 1917, has been elected to teach Spanish in the Texas A. & M. at Arlington.

Mrs. Pat M. Neff and children are at Long Beach, Cal., for the rest of the heated term.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Barcus of Waco will teach at Miami this next year. Forrest Street, the son of Rev. Henry H. Street formerly pastor of Provident Heights church, will be principal of the high school in Crawford this year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Speers, prominent in State Suffrage association and field worker of the Anti-Vice association, representing all the clubs of Texas women, is the guest of the university at Burleson hall. Mrs. Speers is working in direct conjunction with Raymond Fosdick.

Prof. and Mrs. T. H. Claypool will spend their vacation by taking a motor trip to the coast. They will probably visit Lieutenant and Mrs. Junius Russell (nee Lily McLeroy) at Orange.

Miss Irma Board of North Thirteenth street will be one of the teachers in the West schools.

Mrs. Cunningham, state chairman of the Anti-Vice league, has been spending a few days at Burleson hall.

Mrs. A. V. Gillette of Burleson hall has been spending the month of August with her daughter, Mrs. Vance, near Fort Worth. She returns September 1.

The bridge over the creek just to the side of Carroll athletic field has been finished and traffic has been resumed on South Fifth. There is a considerable amount of dirt and debris which needs to be removed. It will probably not, however, be cleaned up until the new street is down. All told the bridge is a great improvement over the old structure.

Leut. George Isbell, '18, is home from Leon Springs and is visiting his sister, Mrs. Crate Dalton, on Ethel avenue.

Misses Cora Evans and Minnie Blacklock gave a slumber party Friday night in honor of Miss Anna Mehner of Flatonia. About one dozen young ladies were present and enjoyed the light refreshments which preceded the slumber party.

Rogers Gray, '17, of Lufkin is visiting friends in the Quicksall household at Tenth and Speight.

Mrs. Olive Ware Burrows of Fort Worth, formerly of Waco, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carl Lovelace, on Washington street.

Misses Mary Orpha and Ida Belle Claypool of Fort Worth are visiting their uncle, Prof. T. H. Claypool, at Burleson hall.

The visit of Alfred Noyes last January has yet another echo. Dr. J. T. Harrington offered a prize to the young lady who should write the best description of his visit. The prize was won by a poem written by Miss Flora Wells. Later Miss Wells submitted the poem in Texas Intercollegiate Press association and won the first prize again. Each year the Stratford company of Boston publishes an anthology of the best verse written by college students all over the United States. Miss Wells was advised to submit this poem and on Friday last she received word that her poem had been accepted.

The introduction this year will be written by William S. Braithwaite of Boston Transcript, and Baylor feels gratified to be represented in such an excellent work of all-American college poetry.

Odie Minatra, '17, recently elected president of the Bryan Baptist academy, was married to Miss Gertrude Holloway of Dawson. Miss Holloway was in Baylor university last year.

Miss Theresa Hutchinson leaves early this week for Corpus Christi, where she joins her family. Mr. H. Hutchinson and the Misses Hutchinson and Miss Bohannon will motor back to Waco at an early date, leaving Miss Theresa to prolong her visit in Corpus some weeks.

Miss Mary Claypool leaves Monday for a visit with school friends in Ft. Worth and Dallas.

Miss Louise Lawson, who graduated last June from the Baylor university department of music, has spent the last eight months studying under the direct supervision of the world's greatest woman pianist, Fannie Bloomfield Zeisler.

Mrs. Zeisler teaches her pupils at her home in the exclusive Everett avenue neighborhood. She has' as her neighbors the Swiss, Spanish and Greek consuls. She has little musicals to which new students are invited and at such times Mrs. Zeisler often criticizes very keenly and severely the playing of her students. But she has another side which is most delightful and charming and her pupils are quite devoted to her.

Mrs. Zeisler sent her most cordial greetings to Waco and said that she remembered her visit here with the greatest pleasure.

Mr. Shepherd Allen has written of a very delightful visit with friends in Kansas City. He has now gone to Colorado and will spend some weeks at El Dorado Springs.

Miss Margaret Thomas '17 the daughter of Hon. Cullen Thomas is spending her vacation at Long Beach California.

Mrs. W. W. Kendall is building an attractive bungalow on South Seventh between Baylor and Dutton.

Frances Guitard, son of Professor F. G. Guitard returns shortly from a few weeks spent at Shinar visiting his grandmother and uncles.

Mr. Harold Fechan former director of the music department of Texas Christian University has been elected to succeed Prof. Loring as a teacher of piano in the University. He studied in Leipzig and Dresden and is considered an accomplished and refined musician. He is spending his vacation in New York and in Maine.

Victims of eyestrain and other eye weaknesses and those who wear glasses will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored to health and comfort and many who wore glasses say they need them no longer.

One man says: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt at all. Now I can read even fine print. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady says: "I had my eyes seem to fade with or without glasses, but after using Bon-Opto for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses."

Another says: "I was bothered by eye strain caused by overworking tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for health and comfort and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long-distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to discard them, and that other thousands will be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting them. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited in this way. Go to any drug store and ask for Bon-Opto tablets. Dissolve one tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and use two to four times a day. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the first use. Inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Doctors Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Strengthen Eyesight

PETERSON-BRAZELTON WEDDING FRIDAY.

Terminating rather suddenly a romance of years was the wedding Friday evening of Miss Alice Brazelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brazelton of Austin street, to Lieut. I. L. Peterson of Marlin. Only members of the two families were present, and the bride had no attendants. The ceremony was performed by an old friend of the family, the Rev. Robert Gribble, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Caldwell.

The home had been lovingly prepared with palms and American beauties for the wedding and the bride in her tailored suit of blue, with gray fur and chenille trimmings, gray boots and gray and blue tailored hat, made a very charming picture. She wore a lovely corsage of orchids and sunburst roses.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Peterson, father and mother of the groom, of Marlin; a brother, Albert Peterson, also of the United States army; two other brothers, and Frank Martin, who was with Mr. Peterson at Leon Springs; Dr. and Mrs. Lowden, Mrs. Birkhead, Mrs. Tom Connolly of Marlin.

Immediately after the service, the bride and groom left for Galveston, whence they sailed on Saturday for New York. There they will remain until the groom is ordered to France. The bride has been very prominent socially, and is beloved for her charming manners and nobility of character. Lieutenant Peterson comes from one of the best families of Marlin. His success at Leon Springs has been a matter of sincere congratulation to both families, he having taken a first lieutenantcy. The young people are known to practically everybody in Waco and Marlin, as well as in other Texas cities. They are followed by the sincere good wishes of innumerable friends.

MISS LOUISE LANCASTER GIVES SLUMBER PARTY.

Miss Louise Lancaster, 12 years old, was hostess to a small but merry party of her friends Thursday evening. Her mother, Mrs. C. R. Lancaster, was Miss Louise's assistant and chaperon to the party. The evening's fun began with games such as "Going Up in an Airplane," and continued through a cutting of big iced watermelons. Although it was called a slumber party, the children did not close their eyes until about 2 o'clock. The cots were placed on the lawn, and after donning their pajamas, the little girls played hide-and-seek, joined by Mrs. Lancaster, until it seemed that they would never sleep.

Friday morning found them breakfasting at the park and taking kodak pictures. All this good time was in honor of little Miss Florence Menefee, a visitor from San Antonio.

Those in the party were: Misses—May Kyle Shumway, Florence Menefee, Helen Mayfield, of San Antonio, Loraine Tomlinson, Capitola Farmer, Ruby McReynolds, of Lawton, Okla., Louise Lancaster.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MISS ANNIE FLANAGAN.

Mrs. Charles Flanagan of Clay street was hostess on Friday afternoon to a number of the birthday of her niece, Miss Annie Flanagan, who was 15 years old. Several games of buncos resulted in Miss Olivette Pinto's taking the head prize, a pretty handkerchief bag. Miss Alicia Doherty took the trophy, a toy umbrella.

The birthday cake, surmounted by 15 blue candles, was a treat to look at and even better to eat. Strawberry ice cream was served with squares of white cake, iced in pink.

Those present were: Gertrude Trautschold, Misses—Olivette Pinto, Marguerite Pinto, Leta Pinto, Anita Flood, Catherine Flood, in Goldberg, Phyllis Goldberg, Estelle Goldberg, Lucia Doherty, Lucene Gibson.

POPULAR TEACHER MARRIED THURSDAY.

One of Waco's most popular young teachers was married on Thursday evening, when Miss Ora M. Champion became the wife of Mr. J. R. Hodges, recently of Dallas. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Rev. M. M. Champion. Only the closest relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present, among them the mother of the bride; a sister, Miss Salie Champion; Rev. and Mrs. R. F. Brown and daughter, and Mr. C. F. Hodges. Mr. and Mrs. Hodges will make their home in San Antonio where Mr. Hodges will be in the transportation department of the M., K. & T. railway.

The bride was for three years a teacher in the Waco public schools, the first year at Bell's Hill and the second and third at the South Third Street. She was popular with her fellow teachers and with the children, who will be sorry not to have her with them again.

MISS SMITH'S CIRCLE WITH THE MISSES FARRELL.

Miss Enrieque Smith's war relief circle will meet this week with the Misses Farrell, 2206 Morrow, Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly desired by the chairman.

GRADUATION RECITAL OF MISS LOVE NAYLOR.

The graduation recital of Miss Love Naylor will be given at Carroll chapel at 5 o'clock the afternoon of August 23. The program will be as follows: "Sonata," Op. 14, No. 2, Beethoven; "Impromptu," Op. 9, No. 1, Schubert; "Popillon," Lavalley; "Etude," Friml; "Prelude," Rachmaninoff; "Nocturne," Schumann.

MR. MEDSKER'S RECITAL AT BAYLOR THIS WEEK.

A very charming recital will be that of Mr. P. H. Medsker, who will give the following violin numbers on August 22, at 5 o'clock, in Carroll chapel. Mr. Medsker expects to continue his work with Prof. Navratil again next year, doing graduate work in violin. The program is of very high order and the public is cordially invited to enjoy it. The following numbers will be played:

"Idian Lament".....Dvorak-Kreisler
"Oriental".....Cesar Cui
"Concerto No. 7".....De Beriot
"Air".....Bach
"Serenade".....Drdla
"Mazurka".....Friml
"L'Abelle".....Schubert

WACO GIRL MAKES GOOD IN BOSTON.

Miss Nellie Lee Hill, who graduated at Baylor university in 1916 taking signal honors in the department of expression, has spent the year at the Curry school of Expression in Boston. Her work there was considered of the highest calibre, and she won her teacher's certificate without any trouble. Recognizing the value of Miss Hill, both as to personality and as to ability in expression work, Baylor university elected her to the place of assistant in the department of expression.

Miss Hill has been traveling since her graduation at the Curry school, having spent a week on the coast of Maine, and some time in New York City. She is now in Washington, but will reach home about September 10.

RECENT BAYLOR GRADUATES MARRY.

A wedding of interest to the Baylor community occurred Tuesday evening when Miss Clara Wilson, '17, and Mrs. W. S. Emmons, '16, formerly an instructor in history at Baylor University, were married. Mr. and Mrs. Emmons will make their home in Louisiana this fall and winter, where Mr. Emmons will teach.

Miss Corrie Ivy, '16, honor student of her class, and Leslie Williams, also a member of the 1916 class, will be married at San Marcos. Mr. Williams has been in training at Leon Springs, where he won a second lieutenantcy. They were to be married as soon as a furlough was granted. Their future home has not as yet been decided upon, owing to the uncertainty of the groom's movements. Both were very prominent members of the Baylor student body, making brilliant records in the classroom and winning the esteem of all who knew them.

TWO INTERESTING READINGS AT BAYLOR.

The class in American drama, which is taught by Dr. A. J. Armstrong, was fortunate in having Miss Honora Silbert, '17, read "The Music Master" for them on Wednesday. The classroom was filled with students and visitors, who thoroughly appreciated Miss Silbert's sympathetic rendition of the beautiful story. Miss Silbert took her diploma in the department of expression this last June. She had distinguished herself throughout the course by her unusually brilliant interpretation and her flexible voice. On Friday morning Miss Theresa Hutchenrider gave Zangwill's remarkable triumph, "The Melting Pot," to an audience of students and visitors who were charmed with her rendition. So successful had been Miss Hutchenrider's reading of the same drama before that, by popular request, she repeated it.

MURPHY-DYER WEDDING SUNDAY.

The home of Mrs. J. K. Murphy was filled with friends and immediate relatives on Sunday afternoon, August 12, at 2:30 o'clock, when Mr. Scott B. Dyer of Dallas claimed as his bride Miss Alma Murphy, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Murphy.

The music room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, palms and sprangeria fern. The bride and groom entered at the first strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Winnie Polk of Killeen, a friend of the bride since childhood. She played softly during the ceremony, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling."

They were met by Rev. W. W. Melton, who conducted the impressive service, the ring ceremony being used. Miss Murphy was charmingly gowned in hand-embroidered, navy blue georgette crepe, with white accessories. Immediately following the ceremony, the guests assembled in the dining room, where refreshments were served and congratulations extended by many life-long friends. Despite the quietness of the wedding, a host of presents, of linen, crystal and silver were received.

Miss Murphy is a gifted young lady, having charmed many audiences with her delightful music. She was a student under Prof. Wells at Baylor University in 1913 and 1914 and has studied music under Prof. F. Arthur Johnson. Mr. Dyer, although he is not so widely known here, is to be congratulated on his happy choice. He is a member of this year's graduating class at A. & M. college, and is in business at Dallas, with the Western Electric company.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer left immediately for Dallas, where a beautiful new home was waiting ready for them. Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Roberts of Fort Worth, an aunt of the groom; Mack Murphy of Sweetwater, a brother of the bride, and his two children, Jack and Leola; Mrs. Preston Berry of Llano, a cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Polk of Killeen, with Miss Winnie Polk; and Mr. Ira Swope of Killeen.

Miss Catherine Shepard, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Sim Shepard, will be married at high noon today to Lieutenant Richard Torrence. The wedding is to be a quiet one, on account of the war conditions, the groom being in the city only on a furlough. After the ceremony, which will take place at the home of the bride, 1717 Trice, the young couple will go to Galveston, thence to San Antonio, where they will make their home temporarily.

The bride is a very beautiful girl, with her golden hair and blue eyes. She is very young, not having yet graduated from high school. The groom is a well known Waco boy, who entered training at Leon Springs, coming out with a second lieutenantcy.

In Purchasing a Watch

If you are thinking of purchasing a watch, let us assist you in its selection.

The variety of watch movements is bewildering; some are good, some are bad, and others are very indifferent.

No watch is handled by us that cannot bear the critical inspection that many years experience as watchmakers and merchants enable us to give.

Every desirable style and size will be found in our stock.

You will have to pay no more than elsewhere for a good watch, and have a sense of security in your purchase.

the members. All those who have enjoyed them this summer are sorry that there are but two Friday nights left this summer. Every one is especially invited to these last two outings.

The Y. W. C. A. hopes to carry the "get acquainted" spirit, emphasized in these outings, into the fall work. With the coming of September, activities at the Y. W. C. A. building will begin. Classes are being planned, parties and stunts will take the place of the Friday night picnics, and clubs will be organized. Every member of the association is invited to take part in these activities, and to give suggestions. The Waco Young Women's Christian association will endeavor to answer the challenge of the day by enlarging and fitting its activities to meet the needs of these times.

Miss Marguerite Williamson of Denver has been appointed by the field office at Dallas to be the war secretary of the Waco association. She will arrive in Waco Thursday to take up her work.

The Detectives.
The constable gazed long and thoughtfully at the hole in Mrs. Parkinson's parlor window. Then he produced a note book.
"You 'ard a crash at 4 o'clock?"
"Four o'clock," echoed the lady.
"You run to the door, but seed no body."
"Nobody."
After this question Sherlock could think of no more, so he shut up his book with a snap and walked off, dreaming of promotion.

A few minutes later he was back, with a full-face smile that was eloquent of triumph.
"Jobs like this 'ere don't take a smart chap long," he remarked. "You're sure it happened at 4 o'clock, ma'am?"
"Yes. Have you caught the culprit?"
"Well, not yet, ma'am," he answered, "but I'm narrowin' it off down all right. It wasn't Bill Higgins, 'cos 'e was killed by motor car at 'art past three."—London Fun.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HELP

We find you can bring out the beauty of your hair to its very best advantage by washing it with canthrox. It makes a very simple, inexpensive shampoo, which cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all the dandruff, dirt and excess oil, leaving a wonderfully clean, wholesome feeling. After its use you will find that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is never streaked in appearance and is always bright, soft and fluffy; so fluffy in fact that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes pleasure. Just use a teaspoonful of canthrox which you can get from any good druggist, dissolve it in a cup of hot water, this makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head.

OUT OF TOWN SOCIETY

AQUILLA
Revs. Milton and Bryan of Waco are conducting a revival meeting this week at the Tabernacle in Aquilla. They are having good attending crowds.
Quite a number of carpenters from the vicinity of Aquilla have been to Waco working on the army camp.
This part of the country is still very dry and cotton is opening fast. The gins are turning out several bales every day.
Most farmers have gathered their corn, which runs from 5 to 10 bushels per acre, of very inferior grade.
George Barnett of Aquilla carried an automobile load of boys and men to Waco last Sunday to see the ball game and the army camp.
H. E. Henderson and family of the Whitney community are visiting in and around Aquilla this week.
Mrs. Sallie Hale returned last Monday from a two week stay with her sister, Mrs. Watson of the Massey neighborhood. Jim Nichols, who cultivated a crop in the Lebanon community, left one day recently for north Texas, where he will operate a cotton gin the coming season.

EDDY
The first bale of cotton was gathered and marketed here Tuesday by R. F. Blasensme. Headed by Sam Elliott, twenty-five of the town youngsters raided the field early Tuesday morning and by noon sufficient cotton had been gathered to make a 613-pound bale, which was signed and bought by the Eddy gin company. They paid 35 cents per pound. The premium and seed made a total of $340 realized from the bale. Mr. Blasensme is one of the best farmers of this section and he says cotton is not much here.
A trainload of soldiers was detained here Tuesday from an accident to the engine. They said they were from Pennsylvania and were going to Texas.
Bryan Talbert paid a short farewell visit to home folks before going to Gal-

LOTT

Tuesday night of this week, Col. W. W. Seley and Dr. McGlaason of Waco came to Lott and organized a Red Cross auxiliary. Certain officers and Mrs. A. Poulson secretary. A membership soliciting committee is canvassing the town.

The Old Settlers' reunion at their camp ground on the Martin road five miles north of here is in progress and many visitors from this and other sections are in attendance. A very interesting program is being carried out. N. W. Watkins of Lott is president of the organization.

Miss Gilda Whiteside, daughter of Dr. R. B. Whiteside of this city, is at Galveston at the John Seely hospital, taking a course in nursing, preparatory to entering the Red Cross service.

Dr. F. C. Barrett, one of the most honored citizens of Lott, has received a first lieutenant's commission in the medical department of the United States army. He is daily expecting assignment.

Winifred Williams, one of the Lott who enlisted in the national guard as a private, recently was commissioned second lieutenant.

Mrs. A. Palmore of Texarkana is visiting in the home of her uncle, Dr. R. B. Whiteside.

J. C. Boog, who was formerly a teacher in the Lott public schools, received a lieutenant's commission from the training school at Leon Springs the first of this week.

Prof. D. J. McWilliams and family returned the first of the week from a four weeks' visit to Austin, where McWilliams was a member of the state normal board of examiners.

Several bales of cotton have been ginned here this week. The crop is doubtless the shortest in the history of this section. Many farmers think the average will not

The Baptist church of Lott will hold a revival meeting beginning September 2, conducted by Rev. R. T. Goldman of Mc-

WONDER TRUCK IS NEW MARVEL

Well it's here.
What? You ask.

But then it flashes that you have seen a truck running over the streets for the past few days with a big sign over it as follows, "Just arrived the Maxwell Wonder Truck." And say, take it from those who have seen it demonstrated for the past few days it is some wonder too. No hill could be found in the vicinity of Waco that the Wonder did not actually pick up speed running in high gear. It is all that any prospective truck buyer could ask in completeness efficiency and price. It is the by word of Manager Daniel H. Rubens of the American Motors company, as well as his pride.

"Say, just tell the people through the News that Rubens said after giving and honest to goodness and fair tryout it surpasses anything ever put on the market for the price—$865.

Tried Out With Loads.

"We have tried it out with ice and any kind of a load, and its work is marvelous," continued Mr. Rubens. "We guarantee this truck to haul a ton, but it will carry twice that amount and more. In north Texas an ice company has one that has hauled two tons of ice constantly for several months, and it is as good as new now. Please note these qualities, and compare them with those of any other truck."

MURRAY BROTHERS IN IMPORTANT WEEK'S SALES

Murray Bros., Harley Davidson Motorcycle dealers made several important sales the past few weeks. They delivered to Fred A. Jones Co. for government service a Harley and side car.

Jack Footes now is riding a Harley in messenger service.

Murray Bros have delivered eleven 1917 model Harley Davidson's since April 1st.

That electric vehicles for commercial purposes have effected the invasion of the Tansval in the past few months, is indicated in the motor news that comes from that newly developed motor country. Many light vans are seen on the streets of Johannesburg which are being used by the Post Office department and leading commercial houses. The particularly desirable economies in tires, power costs and general upkeep have done much to popularize electric there. The greatest economies so far have resulted from the use of Goodyear Motz cushion tires.

ALL YEAR CAB ON KISSEL KAR

Longer wheelbase and loading space and the all-year cab are the outstanding features of the new line of Kissel trucks announced by the Kissel Motor Car company, Hartford, Wis.

Unusual strength, power and durability, resulting from the Kissel combination of perfected worm-drive rear axles, superior front axles, and selenitically constructed chassis are among the built-in Kissel characteristics of the new trucks that insure economy and efficiency.

Enviably Reputation.

With an enviable reputation for quality that has extended over a period of ten years, Kissel outdoes himself in the new truck line in spite of the scarcity of materials and labor. That the new Kissel trucks can, in the face of increased cost of production, be sold at prices that emphasize their unusual value is remarkable.

In the place of the old terms such as "Tonners" "Two Tonners", etc., new descriptive names are given to each of the new models—names that give the purchaser a good idea of the capacity of, and to a certain extent, the uses for which, the trucks are built.

Hence the new model that was formerly termed the "three-quarter tonner" or "light delivery car" is now known as "The Flyer" with an increased wheel base from 120 inches to 135 inches and with eight foot loading space instead of 6 feet, 3 inches. The chassis capacity of "The Flyer" including body, is 2250 pounds.

"General Utility."

The next sized model is "The General Utility" with an increased wheel base of 152 inches instead of 132 inches and a loading space of 10 feet instead of 8 feet. The chassis capacity, including body, is 3400 pounds.

"The Freightier" with a chassis capacity, including body of 5200 pounds, is third in size with a 168 inch wheel base instead of 144 inch and with a 12 foot loading space in place of 10 foot. The rear tires are 7" instead of 6", while the front tires are 4" instead of 3 1/2".

The two largest size models are the "Heavy Duty" with a chassis capacity including body, of 8600 pounds, 168 inch wheelbase and a 13 foot loading space, and "The Dreadnaught" of 11,500 pounds capacity including body, 180 inch wheelbase and 14 foot loading space. Both of these big trucks are built for heavy work and are particularly adaptable for use among contractors, excavators and roadbuilders, as well as manufacturers of iron, steel and in the metal working industries.

The Engine.

All five models have the Kissel-built engine—"The Flyer" and "General Utility" with a bore and stroke of 3 7/8x5 1/2 giving 24.2 horsepower S. A. E., while that of the three large sizes is 5 1/2x5 1/2 giving 29 horsepower S. A. E.

"The Flyer" has a special bevel gear drive, while the other four models are equipped with the perfected worm drive.

Unusually light weight for their carrying capacity characterize the "Heavy Duty" and "Dreadnaught," the chassis weight of the former being only 7000 pounds and the latter only 7400 pounds.

Another new feature is that the All Year cab, without the winter attachments, is standard equipment on the four largest models, "The Flyer" being equipped with the Kissel standard open seat. To change this open summer cab into an All Year cab, the winter attachments, consisting of wind shield, side, door and rear windows, and costing $50 extra, are easily attached, making it entirely closed for winter use.

TOPICAL WINDOW TRIM.

During the Ozark Trails convention, held at Amarillo, Texas, the week of June 24th, the Overland Texas company, saw their chance to increase sales. Their idea was to trim up the window in the way most apt to catch the eye of the conventioner and also the residents of their own city.

They got all the prairie atmosphere by means of cactus and other foliage and placed a country club in the center of it. Two small wolves were turned loose to wander around the car and nibble at the cactus! On the car was placed a big sign bearing the words, "This Little Car is a Wolf," and another sign, "Tell Your Friends to Hit the Ozark Trails for Amarillo."

As the Packard speed tests run last week on the speedway at Sheephead Bay, N. Y., new speed marks were set for 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6 miles. The engine used was a Packard aviation twelve-cylinder, which permitted a complete circle of the two-mile track in 58 seconds—at the rate of 124 miles per hour—a new world's record. The time for 4 miles was 1 minute, 57.1-4 seconds and for 6 miles, 3 minutes flat—also new records. In each test Goodyear Cord tires were used.

HAWKINS BUYS NEW OLDSMOBILE

"Harvey Hawkins of the Texas Lumber and Loan company was the lucky man," said Mr. Ward of the Ward & Phillips Motor company, as he proudly pointed out the first 1918 Oldsmobile roadster that reached Texas, and say it is a dandy. View it from the front, behind or on the side it is unsurpassed by any roadster that the motoring public of Central Texas has had a chance to buy.

"But the show was in Dallas," continued Mr. Ward. "Mr. Hawkins went with us, and the moment his eyes fell upon it he began to actually tremble with delight, and all that he could say was 'Is that it; isn't it a dandy?' The car was brought back to Waco."

Another happy owner of an exclusive car is L. L. Ainsworth, who bought the second Oldsmobile Chummy Roadster that ever came to Texas, but let Ward & Phillips explain the qualities of these cars:

"The eight-cylinder Oldsmobile series 45 is offered in two roadster models, the Oldsmobile Club roadster and the Oldsmobile Standard roadster."

"The seating arrangement of the club model may be characterized as fellowship for five. The standard roadster is two-seated, but the rear compartment contains auxiliary seats for an additional two."

"Trim and trim these roadsters are, in typical Oldsmobile style. High powered, too, with Oldsmobile eight-cylinder motors under their smart bonnets."

"The standard roadster is built to meet the requirements of business and professional men who seek a car that will take them about swiftly and smoothly and silently—a car possessing a subtle air of dignity, prestige and good taste—and withal, a light car that exacts but a meager toll in fuel and tires."

"The club roadster has a tingling atmosphere of the open spaces—of companionable touring parties streaking along a white ribbon of road out where the sky is high and the horizon far in the distance—of good comrades speeding joyously to golf links and bathing beaches. It is a car that

"Women will approve these roadsters for their graceful lines, their beautiful and lasting finish, the comfort of their cushions, their roominess, and their wonderfully willing response to the light touches of the driver's hand."

"For nearly two decades it has been the privilege and the prerogative of the Oldsmobile to set the pace in motordom. In presenting these roadster models we feel that we are serving well the clientele of discriminating car buyers who in the past have accorded the Oldsmobile their whole-hearted approbation."

The two hundred deaf mutes of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, Akron, Ohio, were honored last week by a visit from a party of French delegates sent here by the French government. The Goodyear mutes found very little difficulty in understanding the French system of signs, and "listened" to a very interesting "talk" on the devastation of the city of Rheims, by one of the party.

Republic Power—A Problem in Levers

There Is Nothing Mysterious About the Power of the Republic Trucks

TORBENSON INTERNAL GEAR DRIVE

Every school boy knows that if you take a crowbar to lift a weight, the closer you have the "fulcrum" (or point of the bar with the block or wedge you pry on) to the weight, the easier it is to lift it. The drive of any car, reduced to the simplest terms, is a matter of leverage. The Internal Gear Drive gives the Republic longer leverage than is possessed by a truck with any other drive. That, in a nut shell, is why Republic POWER is greater.

CAMP MacARTHUR INCREASES MOTOR TRUCK USEFULNESS IN WACO

Everyone who has been on the streets of Waco recently has been impressed by the part the motor truck is playing in building Camp MacArthur. And anyone with any imagination, can understand how much the camp will overtax the present delivery and haulage facilities of Waco. There is a Republic Truck model which will meet your particular requirements better than any other. Let us demonstrate this to you NOW.

TULLY SETS RECORD IN RETAIL SALES

This is a big day in the affairs of Willis-Overland, Inc. Figures just completed in the retail sales department of that institution reveal another monthly retail sales record in that the July retail sales amounted to $13,611,755, an increase of two and one-half million dollars over the company's previous high record which was established in June, of this year.

July, therefore, was the biggest month, from the standpoint of retail sales in all the history of Willis-Overland, Inc. The record, coming as it did in the midst of a world war and with the public mind more or less unsettled as to business conditions, is regarded as the most significant tribute to the standing of the Willis-Overland product in the motor world that has ever presented itself.

Willis-Overland branches, distributors and dealers reported sales of 16,572 cars during July. This figure however, Willis-Overland officials point out, does not include the total number of sales that month. Past experience proves it is said, that reports for about ten per cent of the total sales at retail are never turned into the factory, because of inattention of the dealer, who sometimes is too busy selling cars to file his routine reports for the home office.

Sales on the Light Four and Eighty-five Four models comprise the bulk of the July business, according to the reports. Although working at top speed, the Toledo factory has been unable to maintain pace with sales. During July 2,500 more cars were shipped than in July 1916. The total shipments for the year to date are also in excess of the shipments for the same period in '16.

Up-to-Date.

The following conversation occurred in one of the lunch rooms:
Customer—I would like an order of German Frankfurt, a cup of English breakfast tea and two French rolls.
Waiter (to the cook)—One war on a tray.
Customer—Please add two sinkers (doghuts) to my order.
Waiter (to the cook)—Throw in a couple of U-boats.—Buffalo Commercial.

FADS AND FANCIES FOR THE MOTORIST

Robes, though seemingly of not much importance in warm weather, are quite an important feature in establishing the smart appearance of the car, as necessary to be well chosen as the livery. Among the new lightweight robes are the fine unlined, black and white shepherd's plaids with wide stitched hems, and the same with black, white or gray mohair linings. Unlined whipcords, with dark cloth stitched borders, are also popular in all of the staple colors. Heavy silk robes are offered, but they are not favored, for they slip down so easily that they are never in place, but under foot. This can only be obviated by a thin cloth or poplin lining.

Real "sporty" separate coats are made in full box models in full hip lengths. These are made of light weight in all shades of tan and are lined with corduroy, white or delicate shades. Great big pearl buttons form the only trimming. With the check skirts worn with velvet jackets and crepe shirts the Hindu sash is used. The sash is twelve inches wide and folds about the waist three times and is then loosely knotted in front where the fringed ends fall to the bottom of the skirt.

For real touring use women are choosing the helmet (fore and aft affairs) made of Madagascan straw in plaid or plain colors. Some are trimmed with a silk scarf, others have just the folded veil put on as it is worn in India. Alpine shaped hats with a soft brim of the same grass straw are finished with the crepe or silk folded scarf bands, in stripes, solid colors, checks or embroidered in some way. The drooping brimmed mushroom sailer or hats in Bangkok, peanut straw or novelty straws are very useful and are simply trimmed with wide black or white gros grain ribbon bands with flat tailored bows. Sometimes one meets hand painted, stenciled or embroidered sailors of this type, but the more conservative women like them plain.

Sports clothes seem to grow more elaborate as the season advances, and coats and capes are fascinatingly varied in materials and models. One loose yellow suede cloth coat is lined with black satin. The big roll collar and loose rolled back sleeves are satin faced, as are the slipper pockets at the sides; the pleats that hold the fullness at the shoulders are caught by silk crows' feet, and the buttons and sash girdle are also of black satin. A Havana brown wool jersey coat on one of the full model ideas is lined with apricot silk which shows in the roll collar and as cuff facings. Big brown horn buttons are used on this coat. A tan jersey sleeveless jacket is semi-pleated to the waist, where it is gathered into a fitted coat skirt that falls just below the hips. This little wrap is lined with rose silk brocade and is quite a dressy little affair. Black and white check and gay tartan plaids are appearing in early autumn capes and cape coats.

Couldn't Corner Him.
An Irishman, passing a shop where a notice was displayed saying that every body who played a joke on the shopman, so he entered the shop and asked for a yard of milk. The shopman, not in the least taken aback, dipped his fingers in a bowl of milk and drew a line a yard long on the counter. Pat, not wishing to be caught in his own trap, asked the price.
"Sixpence," said the shopman.
"All right, sorry," said Pat. "Roll it up; I'll take it."—Tit-Bits.

TIRE WASTE IS ABOUT $150,000,000

We Americans have been extravagant. We have literally educated ourselves to be careless with the most expensive things we buy. It is conservatively estimated that the carelessness of the American motor car drivers during 1916 cost them in round figures $150,000,000, and this applies only to tires. What has been your share? You have contributed your bit. You must now take this tire problem seriously. Get every mile out of every tire that the manufacturer has built into it. If you don't you are the loser and if everybody is a loser then the tire deficit for 1917 will outrival last year, for there are thousands more motor car owners today than there were a year ago.

You have been brought to recognize that a general food conservation is a necessity but this isn't going to work any real hardship, for you will merely save what you wasted before. Nor will a tire economy reduce the pleasure of driving your car. On the other hand, you will save much expense that you wasted through carelessness or abuse of your tires the past season.

If you follow the advice given in this article by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company, you will get more service from your tires, regardless of what make they may be, and at the end of the season your expense will have been so much less than it ever was before that you will no longer neglect your tires.

The illustrations shown here are of the genuine abused tires, hundreds of which are discarded every day throughout the United States before they have given the service for which they were built. It isn't the manufacturer's fault. The mileage was built into each tire, but the car driver lost it through carelessness.

Illustration A shows the result of improper application of tire chains. When chains are used they should not be applied tightly. Leave them just loose enough so that every time the wheel turns the cross chains will not strike the same spot in the tire. If you do not heed this advice you might preserve this illustration as an actual picture of your tire.

A more common tire injury is shown in illustration B. This effect is due to faulty alignment of the front wheels. A belt axle or steering knuckle may be responsible or possibly the demountable rim was not perfectly applied.

Accidents are not always responsible for the front wheels being out of alignment, but frequently this is the case. All cars, through no fault in manufacture, are subject to this condition, and the first indication will be given when you notice the tread of one or both tires wearing as though a rough file had been used on them. If the tread becomes worn through and the fabric affected, then the tire is beyond repair. Correct trouble quickly to avoid necessity of this. There is but one remedy, and that is care. Test your front wheels frequently and be sure that they are in proper alignment.

Illustration C shows a casing with two-thirds of its life wasted, for neglected cuts in the tough rubber tread have caused it to blister. In this instance sand and dirt had been forced into the cuts and worked around under the tread. Note the several large bumps where the sand and dirt have accumulated. If a tire is carefully watched for these cuts a plastic will heal them quickly and no damage will result.

The tire shown at D shows the effect of skidding, caused by a sudden application of the brakes. Part of its face has been scraped off. Purely carelessness.

DEPORTED BELGIANS AT WORK BACK OF LINES

By the Associated Press.
Rotterdam, Netherlands, Aug. 18.—The seeming contradiction between the news of continued deportations in Belgium, the German declarations that no deportations have taken place since February last, apparently is to be explained by the fact that deported Belgians are now being sent to work behind the lines on the western front, in the repair of roads, the laying of railroads and construction of works of defense. Instead of the former economic pretext, military grounds are put forward to justify these measures.

The fresh deportations began in the region of Luxembourg and Hainault and according to a correspondent for the Nieuwe Rotterdam Courant. In the former case the entire male population was transported to the neighborhood of the front in northern France. The social standing of the men was not considered. This seems to have been the case at other places, too. People in Belgium fear these measures.

PEERLESS SERVICE STATION OPENED

A fireproof service station has been opened in the concrete building at Nos. 642 to 650 West Fifty-seventh street, New York, by the Van Cortlandt Vehicle Corporation, metropolitan distributors for Peerless "8" cars and motor trucks. This building, which was erected specially by the Fred L. Lay company for a Peerless service station, has a frontage of 150 feet in West Fifty-seventh street and gives 23,000 square feet of floor space on the street floor, allowing Peerless owners to drive in and out by separate doors.

For the benefit of owners there is a large customers' waiting room with all conveniences. The general offices of the company, the employees' sanitary bathing and wash room and all departments are located on the street floor.

The mechanical department, which is under the direction of Edward H. Fagnan, employs sixty-five automobile mechanics, many of them factory experts. This department includes a general repair room, a blacksmith shop containing 2,000 square feet equipped with every appliance that modern automobile blacksmithing demands; a machine shop of 2,300 square feet, containing everything from a twenty ton arbor press to the latest type of turret lathe, and a stock room with 350,000 square feet of bin area and containing $250,000 worth of Peerless parts.

Mr. Fagnan, who has been appointed superintendent of the station, has been connected with the Peerless Motor Car company, of Cleveland, for the last thirteen years, having been a factory inspector, field inspector and final inspector.

"Better Automobiles Are Now Being Built and Nash Is Building Them"

Nash Automobiles

From this date all automobiles made by the Nash Motors Company, heretofore known as Jeffery cars, will be known as Nash automobiles. In addition to this present seven-passenger touring car another car has been designed and built that reflects the ideals of Mr. C. W. Nash and his organization of automobile experts. So far the public has been kept in the dark about the new Nash car which will be built in a light six cylinder chassis, with 121-inch wheelbase, a Nash Perfected Valve in Head Motor developing 68 H. P. with every moving part entirely enclosed except the fan. The veil of mystery which has been so closely drawn around this new car is soon to be swept aside and the public will be permitted to inspect a light six-cylinder car which is the results of twenty-five years manufacturing experience of Mr. Nash, who has directed the manufacture of cars in all price classes, ranging from the low priced four to the most expensive eight, and who put on the market the most successful light six at a moderate price that this country has ever seen, so naturally there has been a great deal of guessing by those who have made a study of the industry as to what this new car would be which will bear his own name, and it is a certain fact that this car will sell under $1500.

Our advice to every prospective purchaser of a six-cylinder, five-passenger, chummy roadster or the latest designed sedan is to wait for the Nash announcement which will appear in a few days. Soon after the announcement is made these cars will be ready for delivery, there will be no long delays to those who place their orders early.

It makes no difference whether you had intended to pay $1000 for your next car or as much as $1750, this line of Nash cars will interest you, and you will most certainly regret it if you buy before investigating the merits of the new Nash Line.

OVERNIGHT CHANGES IN AUTO MATERIAL PRICES

"Never before in the history of the automobile industry have there been so many price changes," said George M. Dickson, president of the National Motor Car and Vehicle Corporation.

"With material prices changing overnight, and with the cost of labor constantly going up and greatly upsetting well defined plans, many motor car builders have been compelled to readjust their prices. It is safe to predict that prices will be unsettled and have a decided upward tendency just as long as the present material and labor situation exists.

"There have been so many price changes in the past few months that we find some motorists who are rather confused as to just what price class each car belongs. So far as National is concerned, we hope to continue to sell the large seven-passenger National Highway Six at $1,995, for judgment from the large number of orders we have received during the past month, buyers are quick to appreciate that a National at its present price is in a very enviable position in the automobile industry.

"The National factory, however, will be governed by the material market and labor conditions, as a long established policy would not permit reducing the quality nor the least change in the strict methods of inspection.

"In the way of prices and classes, automobiles can be divided into groups and levels, just like people. We claim that the National isn't in any group. While the National builders have always made high-grade cars, they are not what you call extravagant. The National is for the man who does not want to overspend unwisely or underspend unwisely. It is for the man who is not satisfied with the commonplace."

AMBULANCE ADDED TO OVERLAND LINE

To fill a demand for such a conveyance, Willys-Overland, Inc., has just placed on the market a special Red Cross ambulance, completely equipped, for $1,250 f. o. b. Toledo. This car, before being announced to the public, was investigated by the medical and Red Cross authorities and met with their endorsement.

The ambulance body is of the regulation French army and Red Cross type. The body has a frame of selected ash. The sides are weather proof and very light. Brass and nickel screws are used instead of nails. The top is of ten ounce regulation duck over poplar slats. On one side of the car on the running board is a sixteen gallon water tank; on the other a large emergency box. To the regulation equipment is added three regulation army litters with blankets. To facilitate overseas shipping the body has been made collapsible.

Two brass plates, about two feet long, for attaching to the car, are also supplied so that names of donors can readily be inscribed on these plates.

ECONOMY CAMPAIGN INCREASES DEMAND

Although many people may have the impression that the national appeal for economy and conservation is having its effect only in "talk," the public is really responding sincerely and conscientiously, according to men who have given the situation close study. Naturally, the tendency to eliminate waste is not as pronounced as it will be a year from today, if the war is still in progress, nor is it contended that everybody has given a second thought to the suggestion, but there are abundant evidences, nevertheless, that economy is being practiced.

Women's natural sympathy for campaigns looking to the betterment of social and economic conditions is one of the most potent factors in the early effectiveness of the conservation propaganda. She was the original volunteer. "For proof, witness the difference in the conduct of most households," say those who have observed the results of the conservation movement. "Look in on almost any home, and you will find that the motto has become 'two small helpings and not too much,' rather than 'a heaping platter and a surplus.'"

And it is pointed out by these same observers that the women have not confined their activities to the home. The influence of their economical standards, at least, has been felt outside.

"It has even affected the gasoline market," according to George C. Hubbs, assistant general sales manager of Dodge Brothers, who recently completed a tour covering practically every section of the country. "Not only that," he added, "but it has affected the automobile market. If you care to verify this, ask the man who fills your gas tank. Sixty per cent of the filling stations will tell you that gasoline sales aren't what they should be in view of the excellent touring weather. They will tell you also that the quantities they sell are not as large as formerly although the customers are more numerous, by far. And then they will explain that this is because nearly every car that drives up is of the light, moderate priced variety, 'and doesn't need much gas.'"

"That is how the conservation campaign has affected the automobile market. People are buying light cars—cars that are dignified in appearance, dependable in performance and capable of running from 18 to 20 miles on a single gallon of gasoline. Such a car is actually an economical necessity to any man who feels that his time and energy are worth conserving, for these two factors also are vitally important to the great national program.

Mr. H. H. Shraeder has taken a position with the Dixie Motor Sales company, as manager of sales temporarily, succeeding A. H. Hardin, who has severed connection with this company.

ELGIN SCOUT CAR IS ON LONG JAUNT

The Elgin "Six" National All Trails Scout car is now on its way westward over the Lincoln highway. Starting from Chicago August 4, this car, in charge of Roy Marsh and Edward M. Lawrence, has set out on a 12,000-mile jaunt, which will carry it over the Lincoln highway, the National Old Trails road and the dual route of the Dixie highway.

The Lincoln highway is being covered from Chicago to San Francisco. From there the car will hit over the road to Los Angeles, where the National Old Trails road will be picked up and followed eastward to Washington, D. C. The drivers then will get back on the Lincoln highway again and follow it westward to Chicago, where they will switch over to the Dixie highway and travel over that road to Miami, Florida, thence back over the dual route of the Dixie highway to Detroit, thence to Mackinac City and back to Detroit.

C. S. Rieman, vice president and general manager of the Elgin Motor Car corporation, has instructed the drivers of the car to gather information about road conditions for the benefit of the war department, to be filed for reference in Washington. In addition, they also are reporting the condition of roads for the benefit of the large touring traffic which will be seen on these highways during the summer and the coming fall and winter.

Although the object of the trip is not speed, the car will receive a good test of reliability. The length of the trip, 12,000 miles, alone insures that. The drivers will average 200 miles a day and will frequently camp out with the car.

Lack of first-hand information at the present time led the Elgin corporation to dispatch the scout car on its journey and to report daily by wire to the National Highways association, Lincoln Highway association, Dixie Highway association, National Old Trails Road association, Chicago Motor club, Detroit Automobile club and all other automobile organizations interested in disseminating road information. The car has also been appointed an official reporter for the American Automobile association.

MOTORISTS NOW LEAN TO ROADSTERS

"There is probably not another automobile in the country today which is as adaptable to the use of physicians and salesmen of commercial houses, public utilities, and manufacturers, as the roadster," says L. J. Oiler, vice president and director of sales of the Studebaker corporation. "And after a careful check of the sales records, I feel safe in saying there is probably not another roadster in as general use among these classes of professional and business men as the Studebaker."

"The roadster is the ideal car for the doctor who must answer calls at any hour of the day or night. It is always ready for service and, on an errand of mercy where speed and performance count for so much, the doctor's car must be dependable. Every part of the Studebaker roadster is so easy to get at that we have found the average owner thoroughly competent to take care of it."

"A big institution of any standing nowadays sends representatives to its clients of whom they are proud and it must have motor car equipment on which it can depend. And the roadster is bound to increase efficiency because it enables each man to cover wider territory, see more customers and turn in more business."

"I have in mind an instance which proves the value of the roadster for business corporations. One of this country's largest public service corporations, after an exhaustive test of several makes of cars, extending over a period of three years, has installed a fleet of 35 Studebakers because its figures proved that Studebaker cars actually cost less to operate and maintain than any other make of car. In addition to the actual saving of money they standardized their equipment throughout and gave their representatives motor cars so handsome and dignified in appearance that the added prestige to the house was of inestimable value."

"The roadster gives the salesman his big opportunity," says his own sales records. "It enables him to close more sales because he can cover a wider territory and see more customers. His car is so accessible that he can take care of it himself, and under the rear deck of the Studebaker he has plenty of room for his sample cases, personal baggage, etc. Bad streets, steep hills or bad weather are no obstacle to his company—and he does not have to depend upon street cars, railroad trains or taxi-cab to keep his appointments."

"The beautiful, refined and dignified lines of the Studebaker roadster make it popular among women who drive. It is so easy to handle and operate, in crowded city traffic or on the open country road, that any member of the family feels perfectly safe behind the wheel. For the man who has no real business reason for owning a roadster, but just wants to get out-of-doors and over the roads without too many passengers along, he finds the roadster his ideal car."

"On September 15 we have announced an increase in the prices of all Studebaker Roadsters. The 'Four' will be advanced in price from $985 to $1025, and the 'Six' from $1250 to $1335."

Mr. Jack McQuigon of the Oldsmobile Automobile company at Lansing, Michigan, spent the past week in Waco at Ward-Phillips salesrooms. He is an Oldsmobile expert sent here by the company, and every owner of an Oldsmobile around Waco had a chance last week to have his car examined and in short a complete diagnosis made of it free of all cost to him.

The Maxotire overcomes the faults of inner shoes or reliners, which "pull up" at the side. Maxotires are made like straight side tires with a tough steel, endless hoop laid inside of it. This side cannot pull up or blow out under any circumstances.

THE MAXOTIRE

- Completely encircles the tube.
- Prevents blowouts on edges as well as treads.
- Is easily inserted—no splice to adjust.
- Acts as cushion between tube and tread.
- Takes up but little air space.
- Are endless, pliable, have only one tire flap and are especially useful in rim-out tires.
- Will not creep or slip.
- Do not require smaller inner tube, though one can be used.

FORM A TRUCK DEALERS NAMED

E. N. McNutt, manager of the Smith Form "A" Truck Sales company, reports that twelve dealers have been established in the past few weeks in territory around Waco. These are as follows: Oliver, Nusbaum, Scharff company, Groesbeck; J. M. Johnson, Hubbard; John T. Post, Gatesville; Guston Bros., Italy; G. M. Carlton Bros., and Co., Hamilton; S. Amster & Co., McGregor; S. P. Knox, Mexia; W. M. Connally & Co., Clifton; Clint Burks, Taska; J. W. Cooper, Kosse; Primm Auto company, Maritz.

Mr. McNutt states that 34 trucks have been sold in the past thirty days which he considers a good showing since even yet most of the time of the management is being devoted to establishing dealers and getting the organization in good working order.

With the army camp creating a great demand for light delivery trucks for various business firms, the truck has very bright prospects for the near future, Mr. McNutt thinks.

SUMMER BRINGS BIG AUTO SALES

Instead of being the slack months for the retail automobile business, July and August this year are proving to be the big selling months. For this is a harvest year for everyone from the farmer throughout all lines of business to the lowliest laborer.

The fall has been shoved back into summer so far as motor car selling is concerned. This fact has been brought home so forcibly to Saxon dealers in all parts of the country that they are now starting a sales program to be known as the harvest campaign.

Reports from the Saxon retail organization dwell mainly upon two points with respect to business. They say that all over the country people who hesitated to purchase cars last spring are now seeking them in mid-summer and also that the present crop outlook and the general speeding up of all kinds of business have opened new sales fields for the automobile.

have combined to verify the truth of that rumor and it is now an open secret that a new Nash car has been designed and built, and that its specifications and price will soon be announced to the general public. It is known that a convention of 30 Nash distributors who will be responsible for Nash motors wholesale distribution throughout the coming year was recently held at the Nash plant, and that the delegates were shown the new car. But so far the buying public has been kept in the dark in regard to the new product although it is practically certain that the veil of mystery is to be swept aside within the very near future.

Many guesses have been attempted by those who have made a study of the industry, as to the type of car, number of cylinders and the probable price. But a mere resume of Mr. Nash's career will show that he has directed the manufacture of cars in all price classes, ranging from the low priced four to the most expensive eight. This shows the fallacy of any attempt to prophesy correctly just what the new car will be. It is generally believed, however, that this car will sell at well under two thousand dollars. It is, of course, and advertised fact that the 611 Jeffrey model will be continued as the 7-passenger car of the Nash line probably bearing the Nash name plate.

A transcontinental bicycle tour of more than unusual interest is the one that has just been completed by Mr. Eugene Estoppey, from Coronado, California, to New York City. He rode an Indian bicycle on Goodyear tires, and carried a complete camping outfit. Enroute he obtained letters from the governor of each state traversed, which he presented to President Wilson upon his arrival at Washington. He is a veteran rider in his fifties and an all-round athlete. Upon reaching the Hudson river at Jersey City he decided that ferrying across the river was hardly exciting enough for him, so he swam the river amid the plaudits of an enthusiastic crowd that had gathered on the New York side.

RIEMAN HAS BUILT UP ELGIN MOTOR CO.

Charles S. Rieman's theory accomplishing results "simply by crowding about two days of good, plain, everyday hard work into every twenty-four hours" contains more truth than poetry. For Mr. Rieman, who is vice president, general manager and founder of the Elgin Motor Car corporation of Chicago, is perhaps the hardest working automobile head in the industry. His reference to crowding work into twenty-four hours is literally true. It is no unusual thing for Mr. Rieman to be at his desk from early morning to long past midnight, and he has been known to work through for an entire day and night on big questions of policy.

Whether such a system pays and is worth while can best be determined by the individual case. So far as Mr. Rieman is concerned, he is 39 years old and says he feels younger. He knows nothing of the nervousness and irritability which loss of sleep is supposed to cause. Because of his ability to go for long stretches on little sleep, he has frequently been referred to as the "Thomas Edison of the automobile business."

As for results, these have been large, and a reward for the energy and administrative ability which Mr. Rieman has exhibited in the affairs of the Elgin corporation. This company, comparative production figures show, hung up a new record when it increased its output from 124 cars in the first season to 1,176 cars in the second season, a 1,052 per cent gain. Its assets have grown from $100,000 to more than $2,600,000.

Beginning operations in a small building fourteen months ago, with 8,000 square feet of floor space, the company now occupies a factory of 108,800 floor space. In addition, two large circular tents have been erected to take care of the increasing production until further additions to the factory, already arranged for, are completed.

SOME TIRE ADVICE.

Motorists Should Keep Prescribed Air Pressure in Tires.

A large number of inquiries from motorists throughout the United States with reference to the expansion of the air in automobile tires in hot weather has caused the scientists of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company to make a careful analysis of the changes that take place when there is any variation in the temperature of the tire.

In making computations an initial air pressure of 70 pounds was used. This is the pressure prescribed by all tire manufacturers for a 24x4 tire. The air is pumped into the tire at a temperature of 40 degrees Fahrenheit and gradually heated until it rises to 110 degrees Fahrenheit. At this point the reading of the air pressure would indicate 74.4 pounds, or an increase of but 4.4 pounds. This is not considered dangerous, for seldom, if ever, will the tires of a motor car undergo such extreme changes in temperature.

A probably more practical computation for the same tire with 70 pounds air pressure is made with the temperature at the beginning registering 70 degrees Fahrenheit. Fast driving through hot, sandy stretches, for example, would cause the temperature of the tire to reach probably 110 degrees. Even under these conditions the air pressure would increase to but 75.3 pounds. This is a most usual condition, and the results prove that the expansion is still more negligible than in the previous instance.

It has been assumed, and frequent careful observations have proved it, that there are comparatively few motorists who keep the prescribed air pressure in their tires. It is well to point out, in connection with these computations, that the rise in temperature of the tire due to its being run, is as great in proportion in cold weather as it is in warm weather. Therefore the increase in the air pressure due to this source must correspond in cold weather as in warm.

WOULD REGULATE THE PEDESTRIAN

"While reckless driving does and will cause many accidents that could be avoided, there is no question that pedestrians are also to blame for much of the trouble," says Harry S. Haupt, president of the Hudson Motor company, of New York.

"Down in Atlanta, Ga., the city officials have recognized this fact by passing an ordinance that requires the pedestrians to exercise a certain amount of care and to comply with traffic regulations the same as vehicles.

"Under the ordinance pedestrians must not attempt to cross a street when the traffic officer signals that vehicles must stop. A man may not proceed when traffic is held up in the same direction he is going, but must wait for the flag to give him the signal to proceed. When a street is opened to traffic one way pedestrians may not dodge among the stream of cars and cross at right angles.

"No motor cars can back into a curb except to discharge or pick up passengers, and then can remain in this position only long enough to discharge or pick up same. All cars must park parallel to the curb, and there are very few downtown streets on which a car may park.

"This Atlanta ordinance seems to have worked well in this populous southern city, and I see no reason why, with certain modifications, it could not be adopted right here in New York City."

SIXTY CARLOADS IN ONE SHIPMENT TO KANSAS CITY

As a fitting climax to a year of most remarkable expansion and growth, the Olds Motor Works celebrated the close of its fiscal year by loading a solid train load of sixty Santa Fe automobile cars which moved out of Lansing Sunday morning, July 29, for Kansas City.

Train loads are not new to the automobile business, but such an immense shipment as sixty cars, many of which were double deck, has occurred but very few times among the many remarkable accomplishments of the automobile industry. It is particularly worthy of note at this time when some predicted that war conditions would effect the motor car business.

The shipment contained 207 Oldsmobiles of different models, valued at $285,761.00. Transportation charges alone were over $15,000. The train was over half a mile long—in fact it was not possible to photograph all of it as there was not a stretch of track with unobstructed view around Lansing that was long enough to show the train.

General Manager VerLinden takes a pardonable pride in so practical a demonstration of Oldsmobile progress and accomplishments, as it tells in positive terms of the wonderful strides accomplished by the Olds Motor Works during the year just closed. Moreover, it serves equally well as a standard by which to reckon on Oldsmobiles for the future since they are now building enough cars daily to load such a train from much less than two days output. Mr. Ward of the Ward & Phillips Company, local dealers says this shipment is but a further evidence of the popularity of the Oldsmobile, for while production has forged rapidly ahead, he is still obliged to place his orders much in advance to insure prompt delivery.

D. W. FIGGIS PROMOTED.

Made President of Smith Motor Truck Corporation.

It is announced that D. W. Figgis is the new president of the Smith Motor Truck corporation. Mr. Figgis succeeds E. I. Rosenfeld, who has been the guiding spirit of the corporation throughout its formative period and who is now the chairman of the board of directors.

Several months ago Mr. Figgis came to the company as assistant to the president, becoming thereafter vice president, the position he held at the time of his election to the presidency. Action of the directing board is based upon the constructive policies he has initiated during his connection with the corporation.

Sixteen years' service with the American Can company, during which time the corporation passed from its formative stage to its present highly organized state, has fitted Mr. Figgis for his new post. Executives who are closely associated with the new president are men of proved ability in their own spheres, all possessing the enthusiasm and progressive spirit which characterizes the younger generation of American business men. The choice of Berry Rockwell, vice president of the Macavoy Advertising agency, as sales manager is in direct line with this policy. Others besides Mr. Figgis who occupy official positions with the corporation are B. E. Veatch, vice president; L. A. Stebbins, secretary and general counsel, and C. R. Hammer, treasurer.

CAN A CURLIAN BE GOOD WAR HEAD?

By the Associated Press.

The Hague, Netherlands, Aug. 10.—For the first time in its history the Netherlands has a civilian war minister in Bernard C. de Jonge and many of its old military men are shaking their heads and prophesying little good of this startling innovation.

Major General N. Bosboom had been minister of war for nearly four years, since August, 1913, his period of office thus covering the entire period of the war and of Holland's mobilization. His administration, in the last critical three years, is generally acknowledged to have in many respects merited the appreciation of his countrymen.

It was General Bosboom who was responsible for the rapid mobilization at the outbreak of European hostilities which, maybe, preserved Holland from the flood of war. Under his direction the number of trained men has been increased from 300,000 and 400,000 to over 500,000.

The clouds of discontent had been gathering for some time. For nearly three years hundreds of thousands of Holland's citizens have been kept under arms in most galling circumstances; the army was not required to fight, and yet it could not be sent home. The influence of the protracted mobilization on the social and economic life of the nation has become more and more trying. Grievances and complaints multiplied.

Things came to a head on the question of calling up the 1908 Landsturm levy. The military authorities decided to call it up for training before the 1918 military levy, that is to say, men of 29 years of age before men of 20; older men, many of them married and with more or less important business ties, before younger, more untrammelled members of the community. Parliament unmistakably expressed its opinion on the subject, but the war office and its representative refused to bow to the chamber's wishes, the sequel being a burst of parliamentary indignation and the minister's fall.

Jonkheer de Jonge is thoroughly conversant with the country's military affairs, having served in the war office. In 1912 he acted as secretary to the state commission which sat to consider the question of the defense of the Netherlands East Indies. He belongs to no political party, and outside a narrow circle is virtually an unknown quantity. He takes over a post of great responsibility, for Holland's position is still dangerous and may yet become critical, and there are glaring imperfections in her defenses still to be made good.

RUSH ORDERS FOR LEXINGTON CARS

Reports from Connersville, Ind., the home of the Lexington Motor Car company, indicates that the factory is well high swamped with orders from prospective buyers who wish to take advantage of the present Lexington selling price, an increase having been announced to take effect August 16.

Although the cost of materials, which made it necessary for the company to raise its retail figure, was increased from 50 to 100 per cent, the increased price of the advanced design of the Lexington Minute Six only amounts to 160. Nevertheless, this comparatively slight boost in the cost to the consumer has developed a tremendous and unexpected demand for the cars.

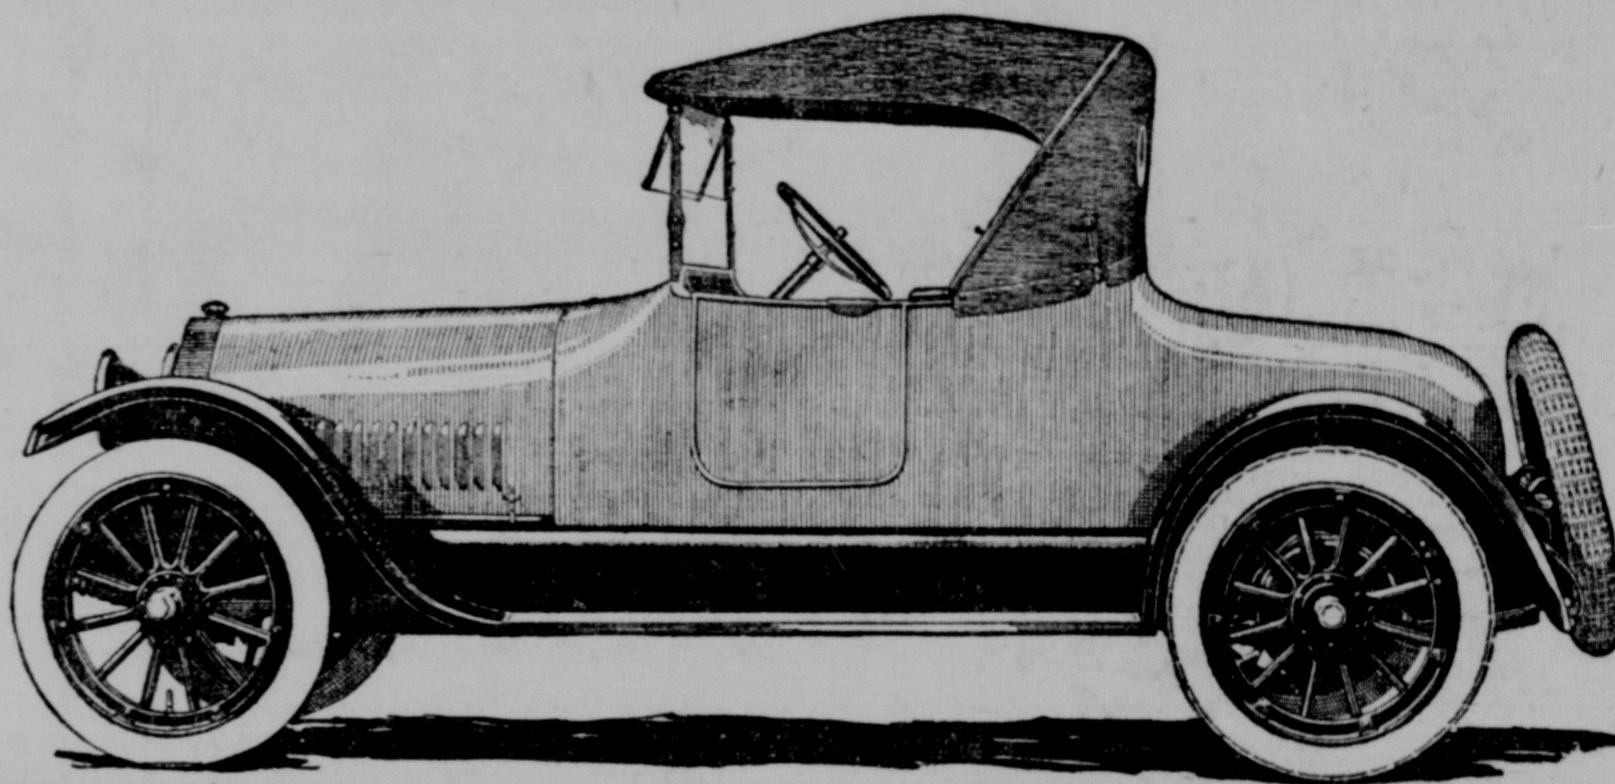

"Your recent increased price announcement revealed to me two things in a most impressive way," Frank B. Ansted, the Lexington's general manager, told a group of friends the other day.

"It proved, in the first place, the vast publicity which advertising brings. Every mail since the announcement was published has contained letters from all parts of the country asking if cars are still available at the $1255 figure. A letter from Maine is no sooner read than one from California is opened. Comment on the increase in price has been received from Seattle, Washington, and recently a clipping came in, concerning it, from a Florida paper. Although the announcement had just appeared once the whole country knew about it. It furnished a splendid example of the power of advertising from the standpoint of keeping the public in touch with your factory conditions.

"The increased demand for cars at the old price shows the shrewd and general economic trend of the buying public, irrespective of its condition of prosperity. There is no question but what labor is scarce and money is plentiful just now. The hysterical economy sentiment is as dead as Napoleon. With money plentiful and labor at a premium, one would imagine that the buying public would pay little heed to a comparatively small advance in a motor car's price.

"Not so, however, with the American motor buying public. If there is a chance to save a dollar, the rich man takes advantage of it the same as the poor man. Every one is after the best possible buy for the money. And that is why the Lexington business is going to be bigger next year than even during the last few weeks."

Studebaker

The best "buy" in Roadsters

On September 15th, the prices of Studebaker Roadsters will advance. The FOUR from $985 to $1025, the SIX from $1250 to $1335.

Even at the increased prices they will be the greatest dollar for dollar values on the market.

At present prices they cannot be equalled. They are positively the best Roadster "buy" in the world.

—for the doctor who must be ready to answer calls at any hour of the day or night, the durable, dependable Studebaker Roadster is ideal. It is always ready for service—every part is so easy to get at, that the average owner is thoroughly competent to take care of it—its appearance expresses the dignity of the doctor's calling.

—for the salesman

whose income depends largely upon his ability to cover his territory quickly and without loss of valuable time, the Studebaker Roadster is a real money-maker. It is big, impressive, powerful. It has plenty of room for sample cases, personal baggage, etc.

The Studebaker Roadster has ample power for every emergency of roads, hills and weather. It will keep on running in the hands of all sorts of drivers on all sorts of roads at a minimum maintenance and repair expense. Its appearance adds prestige to the man who drives it. One of America's largest public service corporations, after an exhaustive test with several makes of cars, extending over a period of three years, has recently installed a fleet of 35 Studebakers, because its figures proved that Studebaker cars actually cost less to operate and maintain over that period than any other make of car.

Because of its beauty and luxurious comfort, and because it is an easy car to handle in crowded city traffic or on the open country road, the Studebaker Roadster is a very popular car with women.

—for your personal enjoyment

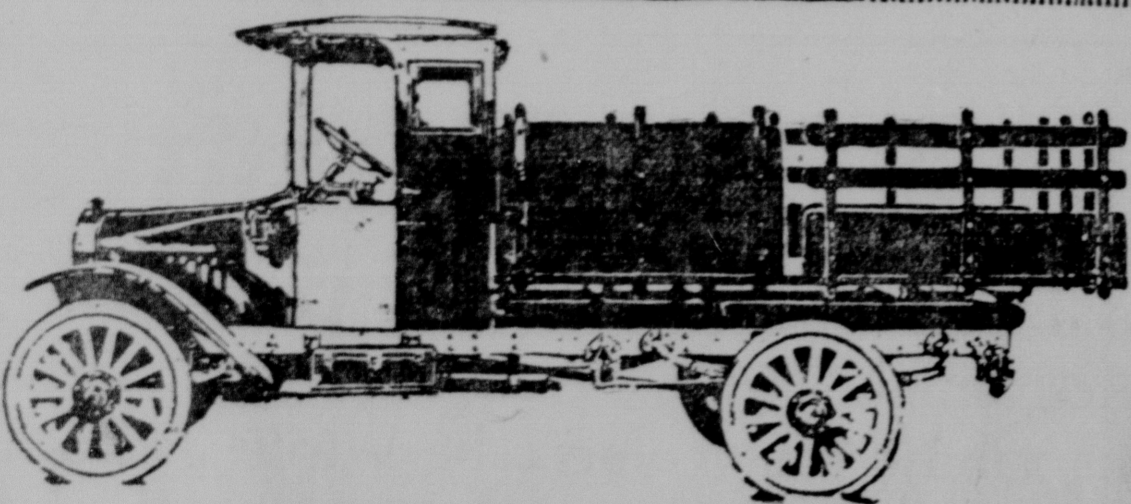

It is the ideal car for the man with a small family, who just wants to drive, to get out-of-doors. It is a snappy, service-giving car—one of the handsomest on the market and absolutely the lowest in price for what it gives. It is guaranteed by Studebaker for twelve months.

U. S. MOTOR COMPANY SPEEDING OUTPUT

In order to speed up production of the United States motor trucks, the United States Motor Truck Company of Cincinnati is preparing shortly to install progressive assembly lines at its factory. With that end in view, Forrest J. Alvin, general manager, and C. E. Davy, general superintendent, have just finished a tour of several of the largest pleasure car plants in Detroit, studying every angle of the progressive assembly system, which is the latest efficiency device in automobile factories, but has not as yet been widely adopted by motor truck companies.

The United States Motor Truck Company will be the first to adopt progressive assembly for heavy duty trucks. In the few scattered instances where this plan has been put into force in commercial vehicle factories, it has been confined to trucks of smaller carrying capacity than the U. S. models all sizes of which including the five-tonners, will be assembled according to the most modern system.

Mr. Alvin and Mr. Davy on their trip not only made a study of the latest progressive assembly methods, but in addition, arranged for materials and equipment for installing the system in the U. S. truck factory. One of the buildings, 500x98 feet, and two stories in height, will be used for this purpose.

For years the Federation of American Motorcyclists has been the leading organization among motorcyclists. It has fought consistently for clean racing, good roads and reasonable laws regulating motorcycle traffic. During the past year 1736 new members have been added to the roll, and a debt lifted that for some years has retarded the growth of the organization. Shelby A. Falor, Motorcycle Tire Manager, Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, Akron, Ohio, is president.

DORT CAN BE MADE TO PAY FOR ITSELF

"You do not have to enter the realm of speculation to determine how the city owner can make his car pay for itself," says one Dort distributor. "You do not have to argue the gain in time, health or efficiency to prove your case. A man traveling two miles daily from his home to his place of business on a trolley car and spending 40 cents for his luncheon-downtown can save at least 30 cents a day owning a Dort.

"Thirty cents does not seem like a lot of money, but in the course of a working year of 312 days it amounts to $93.60, a sum sufficient to pay for a lot of good gasoline and tire depreciation. Therefore, merely considering the elimination of car fare and the difference of cost in lunching at home, a small, light, inexpensive car financially justifies itself, all other considerations aside.

"It follows that the man who feels he is living fairly within his means, may live better and happier on the same expenditure providing he drives a car. That saving of 30 cents a day will pay for many a delightful evening's recreation for himself and family.

"People who say that a car is expensive to own are not fair. Pin them down to specifications and they will assess against it the cost of entertaining friends, of repairs due to careless driving, of incidents that are not necessary. And, in most cases, those who thus indulge themselves would spend money just as freely if they never saw a motor car.

"The man who soberly asks himself how his car can serve him best will find a multitude of ways in which it will aid thrifty intentions. In these days a lot of money may be saved by watching the advertisements in the newspapers and shopping for food and clothing where those necessities can be bought to the best advantage. It is difficult to do this methodically without a car.

"Deprivation is not a synonym for economy. It is not economy to go without those things that make for true happiness and contentment. Health, good clothes, ample food, these are all essential, and the motor car helps materially to obtain them for the least possible outlay."

To co-operate with the railroads in promoting a better understanding as to freight matters and to insure advantageous rates on crude rubber and finished rubber products, representatives of the rubber companies in Ohio have organized the Northeastern Ohio Rubber Shippers' association. R. G. Kneitler, traffic manager for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, Akron, Ohio, is chairman of the executive committee of the new traffic body.

That motorcycles are to play a very important part as equipment of our fighting forces in France, is indicated in the awarding of contracts amounting to nearly $1,000,000 covering 4000 machines to be delivered to the war department within the next four months. Motorcycles have become indispensable in war, both in transportation service and dispatch bearing. No modern army attempts to fight effectively without them. As the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company is supplying tires for about three fourths of all the new motorcycles built in this country, it is expected that the majority of the new government machines will bear Goodyear tire equipment.

PETROGRAD CONFERENCE MAKES DIVORCE HARD

By the Associated Press.
Petrograd, Aug. 18.—The synodal commission for the reconsideration of divorce legislation has completed its project of reform.

Under the existing law, divorce is exceedingly costly and impossible to obtain except for special grounds. The new law will facilitate divorce, cheapen it, increase the number of grounds for which it may be granted, and simplify the procedure. The law will give equal rights to husbands and wives, thus going farther than the divorce law of many of Europe's progressive states.

Either husband or wife may apply for divorce on the following new grounds: Attempt against life or infliction of such injuries as cause serious bodily harm; incurable defacement of the features, or other material injury to health; bigamy, which remains a punishable offense; inducement or compulsion of the wife to lead an immoral life, or profiting by the husband therefrom. A husband guilty of either of the latter offenses loses the right of divorcing his wife for unfaithfulness. A husband or wife may also be divorced in case of sentence to imprisonment or reformatory.

In the matter of facility the new law remains far behind the legislation of many American states and of certain European countries such as Sweden, where declaration by both parties, or proof by one, that life as husband and wife has become intolerable is sufficient ground for divorce.

AUTO PLANT HANDLES VAST AMOUNT OF MAIL

An idea of the vast amount of correspondence that passes through the Toledo headquarters of Willys-Overland, Inc. can be gained from the fact that about 22,000 pieces of mail are handled each day in the mailing department of this big automobile plant. Seventy-five thousand dollars are spent each year for postage.

The telephone switchboards, handled by eight operators and with more than 60 stations, is large enough for many a good-sized city. It is estimated that ten thousand telephone calls are handled daily.

About 500 telegraph and cable messages from all points of the world are received at the Toledo office of this company each day.

PEERLESS PRICE TO GO UP
W. A. Woods, vice president of the Van Cortlandt Vehicle Corporation, metropolitan distributor for Peerless cars, says:—"Advanced costs of materials and labor dictate price increase on the Peerless, as the current price cannot be maintained in the face of greatly advanced cost of materials and labor. These costs have been steadily and relentlessly advancing. Since July 1 our cost of tire equipment alone has advanced $49.64 a car, and the new price may be subject to a further increase October 1. Many material makers are refusing to accept contracts at fixed prices covering any considerable period. Because of these conditions it will be necessary for the Peerless Motor Car Company to make a very substantial increase in the price of the present Peerless at an early date. The increase may be as much as $300.

PUBLIC CLUB OF RUSSIA IS GONE

"GUARDIANSHIPS OF PUBLIC SOBRIETY" ARE TO BE ABOLISHED BY DECREE.

By the Associated Press.

Petrograd, Aug. 18.—The provisional government is about to issue a decree transferring to the Zemstvo county councils the "Guardianships of Public Sobriety," and it is expected that institutions will be abolished or radically reformed. The only sobriety perhaps the only social reform experiment in which autocratic Russia claimed to lead the world.

The sobriety guardianships are a creation of the late Count Sergius Witte, Russia's former minister of finance. When Witte in 1895 expropriated the state without compensation all private vodka saloons, and proclaimed the state to be sole refiner, rectifier and retail seller of spirits, he declared that his ultimate aim was to reduce the consumption of vodka. He reasoned that the state, if it lost revenue through decline of consumption, would gain revenue from other sources owing to the increase in the population's economic productivity.

Temperance a Cause.

In order to diminish temperance, the state, he declared, must provide rational amusements and recreations for the workman and peasant. This was at the time necessary because the state liquor monopoly forbade drinking in saloons and thereby destroyed the working man's only social club. The state, which even early in the monopoly's history was making a net profit of $250,000,000 (in addition to excise duty), was to subsidize the new amusements and recreations.

On these lines Count Witte created the guardianships of public sobriety and gave them such subsidies as state financial agencies allowed. Every province had a supreme guardianship and every district a provincial one. Petrograd, Moscow and a few other large cities had independent guardianships. The guardianships organized people's theatres, reading rooms, concerts, lectures and holiday fairs and later arranged for a "temperance" railroad train in which in different districts lectures against drink were delivered and diagrams and other exhibits to show the hygienic and social evils of drink were displayed. The president of the guardianships was Emperor Nicholas' kinsman, Prince Peter of Oldenburg.

No Other Similarity.

No state except Russia ever conceived such a comprehensive scheme of temperance propaganda. But the guardianships had only a qualified success. In accord with the old bureaucratic system, the members were recruited mainly from official circles, backed by the church and army. Independent social workers and experts, especially those with liberal political ideas, were excluded. At the same time, the monopoly failed from every standpoint except that of state finance. Count Witte had passed a local option law giving the peasant communities the right to petition in favor of the closing of the local state drink saloons, but in practice the state ignored the petitions.

Though hampered by this, the guardianships did some good work. They created many scores of People's theatres, established libraries, disseminated anti-drink literature, and organized thousands of concerts and lectures. But Russian society held suspiciously aloof and demanded reform of the guardianships on democratic lines. The guardianships never took deep root as a social institution. Under the new regime they are likely to be abolished, and replaced by a temperance propaganda and by working class recreation work on democratic lines.

CENSORSHIP IN RUSSIA

IS THING OF PAST WITH COMING OF NEW REPUBLIC

By the Associated Press.

Petrograd, Aug. 18.—Two radical laws issued by the provisional government established freedom of the press by abolishing censorship, including the military censorship, and forbidding all punitive measures except such as can be taken by judicial process. The first law abolishes the notorious "Chief Administration Department for Press Affairs" and the system of registration, inspection censorship and penalties associated therewith. Instead is created a new press governmental organ known as the Chamber of Books, a title invented by Peter the Great but long in abeyance. At the Chamber of Books will be registered all printed and lithographed productions, including reproductions of works of art. The chamber will be granted a subsidy with which to buy press productions, both for the use of state institutions and for presentation to public libraries. Further, in connection with the chamber, there will be established a bureau which will prepare and publish for public use summaries of the whole periodical press, native and foreign.

The second law provides unqualified liberty to print and reproduce, no license or permission being required; but it admits state regulation of the press insofar as it provides for the compulsory registration of printed matter on the system prevailing in many European states. Every individual or corporation which founds a newspaper must register the title, place of publication, price and name of the responsible editor, who must be a person residing within the empire. The printer is obliged to deposit with the state two copies of each issue, one for filing in the Chamber of Books, the other for the use of the government. Newspapers will be obliged to print without charge official regulations or corrections of the law. All printing offices must be registered.

For breach of the law penalties in no case exceeding $25 may be imposed. The normal minimum penalty imposed, always without trial by the old government was $200, the sum being to ruin independent press organs. Fines may not be imposed other than by courts of law, and no newspaper may be suspended or suppressed.

It is far better to have one hand on a postoffice than both eyes on a foreign mission.

HARRY LILLY HAS GAINED 32 POUNDS

"I DOUBT IF THERE IS A MAN IN DENVER WHO FEELS BETTER THAN I DO NOW," HE SAYS. WAS IN A DREADFUL CONDITION.

"I just want to tell you and everybody else what has happened to me since I began on Tanlac, and while some folks may doubt it, it's every word the truth," said Harry Lilly of 4255 Clayton street, Denver.

"The day I started on Tanlac," he continued, "I weighed only one hundred and thirty pounds. I finished my third bottle weighing one hundred and sixty-two pounds—a net gain of thirty-two pounds—and I doubt if there's a person in Denver who feels better than I do now. Before I took Tanlac I was in such a bad fix with rheumatism, disordered kidneys and stomach trouble that life was a burden. The pain across my back was something awful and if I stooped over somebody had to help me straighten up. I was examined six or seven times but no one seemed to know exactly what or how bad my trouble was. If I got one or two hours sleep in two or three nights I was lucky and would get up in the mornings feeling worse than when I went to bed. It was a hard struggle for me to get my shoes on and after I got them on I had to walk around a while to get the kinks out of my back. I had no appetite, and, honestly, I didn't eat as much in two weeks as I do in two meals since I took Tanlac."

"Tanlac was recommended to me by an old Rio Grande watchman and after thinking about what he said I couldn't see any reason why he would tell me anything but the truth. So I started taking Tanlac and by the time I finished my first bottle every bit of the pain had left my back and I commenced to feel like another man. I had suffered so bad with rheumatism in my shoulders that more than half the time my boys had to help me put my coat on. I still had some rheumatism pains when I got through with my first bottle, so I got another and that cleaned up for the rheumatism entirely. I have taken three bottles now and I don't believe there's a man in Denver who feels any better or can do any more work than I can. I sleep as sound as a log every night and can work hard all day without getting tired."

Tanlac is sold in Waco by Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

USED CAR ENJOYS NEW POPULARITY

One of the noticeable effects of present high material and labor costs is the increased demand on the part of the public for high grade used automobiles. These cars, which always have been popular with buyers who based their demands chiefly on service ability, are now particularly desirable because they are practically the only motor vehicles unaffected by the general rise in prices. Built before the manufacturing situation became acute, these automobiles were constructed of good materials and were marketed at the low water mark in American automobile prices. If they were turned out today their retail prices would have to be at least 20 per cent higher than they were, and yet their second-hand values are based on a percentage depreciation from their original prices.

I. E. Koskam, president of the Roskam-Scott company, No. 1886 Broadway, one of the pioneers dealers in used cars in New York City, is authority for the statement that sales of used cars of good makes are nearly twice as great as they were a year ago.

"The demand for used cars includes every make of car of established reputation. The experienced motorist knows that good cars that have been used carefully for even as much as four or five years have many thousands of miles of service left in them, while those that are one or two years old often will outlast lower priced cars of 1917 manufacture. The chief point against the used car in the early days of the industry was the fact that body designs went out of style at the end of nearly every year. Of late years, however, all the builders have reached a point where only minor changes are made from year to year, and it takes an expert to name the year of a car's manufacture by glancing at it."

INDUSTRIAL UNREST IN ENGLAND DUE TO LACK OF FOOD AND HIGH PRICE

By the Associated Press.

London, Aug. 18.—Industrial unrest in England primarily is due to the heavy increase of food prices and to food profiteering, according to the reports of commissions appointed to ascertain its cause. The commissions find that all over the country workmen complain of the discomfort caused by inflation of the price of food.

The working of the military service act and munitions of war act are also contributory causes. Disproportion of wages between time and piece workers dissatisfies most skilled tradesmen who are generally employed on time, and who, while doing work of great importance, receive only one-third or one-fourth of the wages paid to the most successful of unskilled men.

There is a difference of opinion regarding liquor restrictions in the various commissions' reports, some asserting that a larger supply of good quality beer is an urgent necessity, while others give less prominence to that subject.

In some districts men are said to be losing confidence in the government and to this is attributed the growth of unconstitutional trade unionism in such areas as the Clyde.

Industrial fatigue is also said to be responsible for much of the unrest, and the serious results of the delay in dealing with disputes in munition areas are subjects of complaint.

The leading recommendations are concerned with suggestions regarding control of food supplies and stoppage of profiteering, the commissions expressing the opinion that prices should be lowered by a larger supply of good quality beer, and that the government even if some charge upon the exchequer is involved.

Attention is called by all the commissions to the necessity of reducing hours, of readjusting wages in favor of skilled against unskilled workers, and the fuller use of and recognition of trade union machinery. The government is urged to renew the undertaking that all trade union rights and privileges will be restored without exception after the war.

NEW FIRESTONE CORD TIRE IS PUT ON THE MARKET

The Firestone Tire and Rubber company has announced the production of a new and distinctive equipment—the Firestone "super size" cord tire.

The principal advantages of a cord tire are resilience and wearing qualities. It absorbs road shocks, instead of fighting them, and because its fabric is not interwoven but made up of thousands of strong, heavy cords imbedded in tough pliable rubber, the cord tire has less internal friction.

Every Firestone "super size cord" is an oversize tire, having the same relative dimensions as the ordinary over size fabric equipment. It is being built with two types of threads. For rear wheels there is the "skidless double F," angled against slip. The approved front wheel equipment is the "triple tread," with a corrugated surface and which, like the "double F," has its cord body reinforced with specially treated tread rubber.

CAN YOU STAND PHYSICAL TEST

SOME INFORMATION FOR THOSE LACKING "PUNCH."

Some of our readers are included in the great call to rally to the colors and their one thought is: "Am I able to stand the physical test?" Of course there is no disgrace to be turned down by the medical examiners, but our country needs a large number of men able to stand the trials of a long-drawn out conflict.

It is going to take men of grit and men of physical durability to enter into this thing enthusiastically and fight on to victory.

Young men as a rule possess "vim" and "punch" and are able to stand the hardships and privations of war. So it should be with young men. Their jovial nature and lightheartedness is going to pull them through the proposition safely.

But some of the young men who have run down, who suffer with chronic ill of the blood, liver and nerves, want to do their bit, too. They don't want to be turned down, but they are not building themselves up to the requirements of the board.

Our tonic, Pep Sytemic Pills, contains the elements to liven the liver, to furnish a rich red blood supply and to nourish the nerves back to normal.

Our tonic will put plenty of "pep" in you. It will make you spry and equal to grilling work in war time.

Pep Sytemic Pills are recommended for constipation, nervousness, stomach trouble, sleeplessness, malaria, boils, and a tired, fagged-out body.

For sale by W. B. Morrison Drug company and other live druggists.

MARKET REPORTS

New York Cotton. New York, Aug. 18.—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 5 to 9 points this morning. Selling was not very active but there were few buyers and October eased off to 24 1/2, while January sold at 24 1/2 shortly after the call, making a net loss of 22 to 24 points on the more active positions. Favorable weekly reviews as to the average progress of the crop and talk of an easy spot basis for early shipment in the eastern belt, appeared to encourage the selling movement, while some attention also was attracted by a Paris cable reporting that imports into France have been limited to $50,000 bales of all kinds per year. The official western belt forecast for fair weather except partly cloudy in Texas, held out little hope for a break in the drought, however, and prices rallied 4 or 5 points on covering.

The decline extended to 24 1/2 for October and 24 1/2 for January before the end of the morning or about 24 1/2 to 25 points net lower on the active months. The market then steadied on covering for the week-end with October closing at 24 1/2 and January at 24 1/2. The general list closed steady at a price which ranged from 10 to 10 1/2 points on the active months.

New Orleans Cotton. New Orleans, Aug. 18.—A decline of 17 to 25 points occurred in the first half hour of trading in cotton here today, due to selling encouraged by the rather poor showing of mill takings for the week-end. The general attitude of the government toward preventing an excessive rise in the value of any single product. Besides, fine weather continued and peace gossip remained to some degree a persistent factor. Opening prices which ranged from 10 to 10 1/2 lower, with December at $11 1/2, 11 1/2 and May at $11 1/2, 11 1/2, were followed by eight rallies which, however, failed to last.

Wheat trading showed no signs of life. The market was at a standstill and it was said the government price fixing committee was not likely to report until September 1.

With a record yield of oats in sight, that cereal was subjected to a heavy selling pressure. Complaints of car scarcity were apparently disregarded.

European demand as well as a new scarcity in this country tended to give fresh impetus to advances in provisions. The sharpest call was for ribs.

The range of prices: High. Low. Close. Wheat—Sept. 2.02 1.98 2.02. Dec. 1.12 1.08 1.08. May 1.09 1.05 1.06. Corn—Sept. .54 1/2 .51 1/2 .51 1/2. Dec. .54 1/2 .53 1/2 .53 1/2. May .57 1/2 .56 1/2 .56 1/2. Pork—Sept. 43.80 43.20 43.25. Lard—Sept. 23.02 22.90 22.90. Oct. 23.15 22.90 22.90. Jan. 23.37 22.90 22.90. Ribs—Sept. 23.85 23.80 23.80. October 23.77 23.62 23.67.

WILL TALK ON GAS AT MONDAY MEETING

Rotarians who want to know more about the natural gas field from which Waco is drawing her supply will attend the regular luncheon of that organization Monday, August 20, at the Raleigh, 12:15. At that meeting Dr. Chas. L. Watson will be the chief speaker, and his subject will be "Natural Gas." Dr. Watson is connected with the company which is piping the gas into Waco, was a former resident of Mexico, knows how the gas was discovered, is familiar with every step that has been taken in its development and commercialization, and the building of the pipe line. Hence this talk should prove of special interest.

Ferry A. Duncan will be the toastmaster Monday, while L. R. May will give the prize.

The "fair rise" meeting of the Rotarians is to be held on August 27, at night, at the Chamber of Commerce.

NEW BUNGALOW ENGINE HOUSE PRONOUNCED TO BE A DECIDED SUCCESS

The new engine houses which have been built on South Fifth street and on Tyler street in East Waco have been passed on by the city commission and pronounced to be excellent in every way. Also improvements at central station, West End and other places have been approved.

Fire Commissioner Ben C. Richards conceived the idea of the bungalow engine houses, which are peculiarly acceptable and practical in residence sections, and these structures are thought to be the best that have ever been built in Waco. They are complete in every way, and admirably adapted to the purposes for which they were built, it is claimed, and yet were not very expensive. Fire Commissioner Richards has been complimented generally on the success of this move. The engine houses were designed by Building Inspector S. P. Herbert under direction of Commissioner Richards.

RECEIVE NEWS OF SUICIDE AT SEATTLE NEAR GATESVILLE

Special to The News. Gatesville, Aug. 18.—News was received here that Roy Holcombe, living at Seattle in lower part of the county, went to the home of his brother and told his sister-in-law that he had about enough of this world and was going to kill himself. She thought very little of what he said till in a few minutes was alarmed by a gun shot and rushing into the room where he went found he had shot himself with a shotgun and was dead. No cause has been given why he committed the deed.

COTTON DEMONSTRATIONS ON WESLEY MANN PLACE

Dr. H. F. Blodges, plant pathologist at A. & M., has been conducting some experiments on the Wesley Mann place near Robinson.

The experiments had to do with anthracnose of cotton, in which the bolls are attacked while green and kept from opening. Also there were demonstrations in the treatment of seed. Members of the county demonstration corps at Waco were much interested in the work done by Dr. Blodges.

At the Hippodrome.

Douglas Fairbanks in "Down to Earth," at the Hippodrome Friday and Saturday.

Miss Dainty at Orpheum.

Miss Besse Dainty, who opens the season at the Orpheum August 27, with a Stock Company.

Amusements

HIPPODROME PROGRAM.

Sunday and Monday—"A Rough House," five-reel Paramount comedy, starring Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle. Also "Slumberland," five-reel Triangle comedy-drama with Thelma Salter and Georgia Stone.

Tuesday and Wednesday—"Love or Justice," Triangle drama starring Louise Glaum. Also Pathe News.

Thursday Only—"Somewhere in America," five-reel patriotic drama with Mary Miles Minter. Also "Royal Rogues," comedy.

Friday and Saturday—"Down to Earth," five-reel Artcraft comedy-drama, starring Douglas Fairbanks. Also Pathe News.

"IN SLUMBERLAND," HIPPODROME TODAY.

"In Slumberland," with a delightful child actress, Thelma Salter, is being shown at the Hippodrome today and tomorrow. While it is a picture with and for children, it will captivate the "grown-ups" as well.

You don't have to believe in fairies to enjoy this picture most thoroughly. Fairland is shown in a novel and convincing manner. There are many surprising and astounding things done in the photography in this picture, while the artistic scenes are truly amazing.

The story treats of the wanderings of two children—Thelma Salter most ably supported by little Georgia Stone—throughout fairland. Their adventures will delight and awe the children and please the elders. There is a love theme throughout the picture which heightens and quickens the interest.

LOVE OR JUSTICE? AT HIPPODROME.

Louise Glaum, the alluring Ince siren, will be starred in her new production, "Love or Justice," at the Hippodrome Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Love or Justice" is an impelling drama of love and sacrifice. It pictures the life of a woman of the underworld who wears a brilliant lawyer from the drug habit by her love and devotion. Here is a vampire who sacrifices all the luxuries of her former life for the man she has grown to love.

As in former productions, Miss Glaum has made her unique gowns one of the features of the play. First she appears in a cabaret, garbed in the plumage of the underworld. Later she gains refinement through her love and sacrifice, and her gowns are of a more delicate quality.

"Love or Justice" is a striking picture of contrasts. One first sees a woman of the underworld—a cold, relentless siren who wrecks men's lives at random. Then she is transformed into a woman of refinement, susceptible to all the tender emotions of womanhood.

STOCK COMPANY AT ORPHEUM.

Miss Dainty will open the theatrical season at the Orpheum Monday, August 27. Little Miss Dainty with her players will open the season for the theatre and likewise for the company and the engagement for stock without a break, will be for three weeks only prior to the opening of regular vaudeville.

After that the patrons of the Orpheum will get a change of diet each week. Fancies vaudeville for one-half of the week and Miss Dainty and her players for the last half of each week. The intentions are at the present time to adhere to this policy all winter.

All new plays will be staged this season and the biggest ones will be staged in rapid succession. Miss Dainty has been in Dallas all summer, playing at Cycle park, where she has been very successful. She will close in Dallas Sunday, August 26, and open at the Orpheum Monday night following.

The company is reported to be of the same high standard attraction that it was two years ago. The opening play will be a big New York success that will be sure to be a suitable ve-

COMMITTEE NAMED AT MARLIN IS TO MEET HERE AUG. 30

Some important action was taken at Marlin during the past week at the meeting of the Texas Commercial Executives' association. One of the matters which was specially important and which was provided for in the resolutions adopted, was that of undertaking to re-vitalize and reorganize the commercial organizations in the smaller towns of Texas and fully organize towns which have no such organizations. In this way the towns cannot only secure development and advancement along many lines, but will have vehicles through which the national government can act when matters of importance come up. Homer D. Wade of Stamford was made chairman of this committee, and a meeting of the committee will be held in Waco August 30 to outline a plan for this reorganization work. Mr. Wade is one of the best known Texas pushers, and doubtless the work will be done and well done soon. The committee will act with a committee from the Agricultural and Industrial Agents' association of the railroads.

The Marlin meeting stressed the need of co-operating more fully in the commercial and agricultural activities of Texas, and pledged their efforts in that direction.

The Texas Commercial Executives' association placed itself at the command of the Texas council for national defense, and will co-operate in every possible manner. Also the association offered its services to the government in the further sale of liberty bonds as such calls are made.

Heartily indorsement was given the Texas Reclamation and Conservation association, especially with reference to the constitutional amendment which is sought to be passed August 21.

SAYS CANADIAN BRIDGE HAS NOW BEEN REPAIRED

"I was very much gratified at the manner in which our committee was received by the owners of land wanted for maneuver purposes for the soldiers at Camp MacArthur," said J. E. LeMond Saturday. Mr. LeMond aided the military committee of the Chamber of Commerce in securing leases wanted by the government. Mr. LeMond said, further:

"We found only one man who hesitated at all, or who asked for more money for his lease. In practically every case those who signed up, telephoned ahead and had others waiting for us, ready to sign. It was a gratifying and patriotic experience, though when the matter is analyzed those who signed will really come out nicely in a financial way. We appreciated the spirit in which we were met."

WACO YOUNG MAN AGAIN PROMOTED

Mr. and Mrs. William Lambdin Saturday received a telegram from their son, Lieut.-Col. William Lambdin showing that the latter has been advanced another notch in the military climb and now is a colonel in the new national army.

The telegram was dated at Camp Robinson, Wisconsin, and stated that Lieut.-Col. William Lambdin had just been ordered to report at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., as colonel of the new national army, field artillery. His regiment will leave for Camp Grant today. The advancement of Colonel Lambdin has been rapid, and his many friends in Waco will be delighted at this new promotion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lambdin of Waco. William Lambdin the elder came to Waco in June, 1856, and went out from here to the war of 1861-65, serving with distinction.

RED CROSS WORK IS UNUSUALLY ACTIVE

The Waco chapter of the American Red Cross is receiving requests from all parts of Central Texas for information relative to the plan of work it follows, and this information is being used by similar organizations as a basis for procedure.

Chairman W. W. Seley is responding to all these requests, and many visitors are coming here to view the work; among the visitors last week were some from Belton, Marlin, Valley Mills and other places. Chairman Seley goes to Valley Mills next Wednesday night, at which time they organize. He also has promised to visit other points.

Recent donations to the Waco chapter have come from several sources. An appeal has come from Major Grayson M. F. Murphy, Red Cross commissioner for Europe, for more than a million sets of sweaters, mufflers, wristlets and socks. The Waco Red Cross is expected to furnish a part of this, and the women who can knit are called on to respond.

All who are willing to sew can be accommodated at the headquarters.

SAYS PROHIBITION ELECTION CERTAIN

The county prohibition election has by no means been abandoned. This is the statement made by County Chairman Pat M. Neff, who says that the election is coming on in good time, without fail. He sent the News the following:

During the past few days so many inquiries have been made as to whether or not the county prohibition election has been indefinitely postponed, I shall be glad to have you state for me, as chairman of the County Executive Committee, that the election has been in no way abandoned. The committee, for what seemed to be good reasons, did not desire to set forth did not desire to set forth the date for this election, but the campaign is on, the committee is at work, and the election date will soon be designated.

Never has there seemed to be such a demand, and never has the time seemed so opportune for the abolishing of the saloon, as now. By the time the people of this county are through with gathering their short but valuable cotton crop, and the extremely busy days incident thereto have passed, everything will be ready and ripe for this election.

PAT M. NEFF,
Chairman of County Executive Committee.

INTERESTING TERRACING DEMONSTRATION WAS HELD

One of the most informing and interesting terracing demonstrations held in this county has just been witnessed on the Dunca farm near Ax-tell, farmers coming a score of miles to see the work done.

County Demonstration Agent J. A. Pipkin and Assistant Barbee, also Demonstration Agent J. L. Quicksall of Waco, were present. Mr. Olsen of Tyler, an expert demonstrator in terracing, was there, and a road grader was used with great success in the ditching. This demonstration was one of the most interesting yet recorded.

COTTONSEED CRUSHERS MEET AT SAN ANTONIO

Some of Waco's cottonseed crushers will go to San Antonio at once to attend a meeting of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' association, which has been called for Monday, August 20.

The meeting will be held at the Gunter hotel at 10 o'clock Monday morning, a call having been sent out by Secretary Robert Gibson. Several matters of much interest to the crushers are said to be pending.
